ANSWERS LIFE'S MOST IMPORTANT QUESTION

Rev. W. P. Nicholson, Irish Sailor-Evangelist, Points Out Clearly the Way to Salvation.

Answering what he declared to be the most important question that can be asked—What shall I do to be saved?—Rev. W. P. Nicholson, the Irish sailor-evangelist, speaking in the Chapman-Alexander meetings at Princess rink last night, outlined the essentials in four steps:

1. Ackowledgment that you are a sinner.
2. Offer yourself to Christ.
3. Ask the Lord to save you.
4. Accept Him as your Savior.

Rev. Mr. Nicholson delivered the sermon of the evening in place of Dr. Chapman, who had been called to Chicago, for the evening. He spoke with great rapidity, deep fervor and dramatic intensity and the audience was strongly moved. In the altar service that followed there were many requests for prayer and a number of professions of an acceptance of Christ as a personal savior. Rev. Dr. Chapman arrived in the city this afternoon on his return from Chicago and will speak tonight.

His Dramatic Illustration.

"Away up in the highlands of Scotland where the main railway runs between the north and the south," said Rev. Mr. Nicholson as he neared the close of his address, "it crosses a large gully, and over that gully there is a beautiful bridge. It is one of the finest engineering feats in Scotland. The huge masonry parapets that support the great steel girders are a tower of strength. One night an awful storm broke over that highland. The rain came down in torrents as it does in the tropics. The wind blew with tremendous force and where along this gully trickled a tiny stream was now a roaring torrent.

"A shepherd had put his sheep into a shelter for the night, and in the early morning he made his way up a hill to see if his sheep were still safe. When he got near the bridge to his horror he saw that the central parapet had been washed away. The jagged ends of the girders were hanging down close to the water. He knew that the London Mail loaded with its freight of sleeping humanity was nearly due on its journey north.

Must Decide Quickly.

"What could he do? He must decide quickly. He made his way down the side of the gully and plunged into the angry, turbulent water. Battered and bruised and bleeding, he finally landed on the other side, carried a long way down stream. With all his remaining strength, and with all the haste he could make, he clambered up the other side onto the railway track. Just as he reached it the great express came thundering along from the south. He stood between the rails and beckoned and gesticulated. He pointed behind and waved his hands frantically, and all he saw was the hand of the driver motioning him out of the way. Almost frantic he waved his arms, but still the train came on. Just as it came to where he stood he stepped back for a second and then flung himself in front of the engine.

Passegers Are Saved.

"The driver shut off steam and applied the brakes, and the train came to a standstill. The passengers came pouring out of the train. They could not see anything of this and they began to complain and grumble. Some used very bad language, but the driver said, "Men and women keep quiet. I have something to show you." They walked along the train until about three yards in front of the engine's cowcatcher was the great gap in the bridge, and trembling they looked down at the hungry rocks and the boiling torrents a hundred feet below. "Come back with me" said the driver, "And I will show you who saved us." Back along the track was the mangled body of the young highland laddie. As he pointed to him, with tears in his eyes and a sob in his throat the driver said, "He died for us tonight."

"That is what Jesus has done for you, my brother and sister. Will you trample that broken, bruised body under foot? He was wounded for your transgressions. He was bruised for your iniquities and the chastisement of your peace was laid on Him. Will you not accept Him tonight?"

Preaches Sermon in Song.

Before the evangelist takes his text each evening in the Princess rink meetings the audience has already had a sermon in song, for Mr. Alexander's song service is a sermon as surely as ever sermon was preached. Only, perhaps, one doesn't always realize the fact.

It was strikingly true last night. As hymn after hymn and chorus after chorus were sung by gospel singers, choir and audience, Mr. Alexander interpolated some sentence of exposition of the theme of the song that drove its message deeply. "Lots of people will go back on you, in trouble and out of it—but never Jesus," said Mr. Alexander as Mr. Harkness at the piano played the interlude between the verses of "There's Not a Friend Like the Lowly Jesus."

"Do you know where I heard that song first?" continued Mr. Alexander. "It was down in the mission on Van Buren street in Chicago—in the very center of one of the worst spots in the city. But they've been maintaining mission work there for a good many years, and leading souls to Christ, too. That's where I go when I have a chance to get these songs burned down into my heart. Sing it again—everybody."

Prodding Up the Men.

"You men ought to take hold of that song—why, all I could hear of you then was the voices of three or four boys. Lend your husband that book, and make him sing! Oh, too many men depend on their wives to have religion for the whole family!"

"Fasten Your Eyes Upon Jesus" was another hymn which appealed to last night's audience, and alternating old hymns with the new, Mr. Alexander contrived to set the whole house singing the gospel melodies before it came Mr. Nicholson's time to take hold of the meeting. Mrs. Norton, Mr. Naftzger and Mr. Harkness had each been

BIG CAMPAIGN'S SWEEP WIDENS DAILY

A Plea: "Work"

By Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman

"Have you anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon you?" It was the judge who was speaking, and the trembling prisoner at the bar arose to say in tones scarcely above a whisper: "Your honor, I was sorely tempted and I did not have the strength to resist—have mercy." When the plea was made for him by his attorney the statement was made that his character had suffered because he had lived a life of idleness and ease.

This is the secret of many a man's downfall—the idle brain tempts the devil. It has been described as the devil's workshop. The statement is trite; the picture is true.

Work——Because when you are busy, temptations are more easily overcome; victories are more easily won.

Work—Because the greatest men and women that the world knows today or in other days have toiled incessantly. You are in good company when you are busy.

Work—Because there is so much to do; so many hearts to comfort; so many burdens to lift; so many tears to wipe away. You cannot afford to be idle.

But do not fail to remember that there is one who inspires to right living, right thinking, right acting, right working. He was born in Bethlehem, lived in Nazareth, walked with the multitude, and died for a sinning world upon the cross.

WANT PLACE FOR STOKES JACKSON

Would Get Democratic Chairman Job as Sergeant-of-Arms of House

OLD RIVAL BOOSTING

Washington, Dec. 7.—Stokes Jackson, chairman of the Indiana democratic committee, may be supported by the Indiana democratic delegation in congress for sergeant-at-arms of the house of representatives when the house is organized with a democratic majority next year.

This office is one of the best in the house organization. It pays $6,500 a year and the work is not burdensome. When some of the Indiana members saw this nice fat job on the list of places to be filled they thought of Stokes and his long and faithful services for the party. Then they made up their minds they would try to have Stokes brought into the clover field, where he might gambol awhile in the rich, red clover after having served so long as the party's faithful old dobbin.

Strangely enough the leader of the movement is a man whom Jackson defeated in the contest for the state chairmanship, Representative Henry A. Barnhart.

Says Stokes Has Made Good.

"I am very much in favor of taking care of Stokes Jackson," said Mr. Barnhart. "He has conducted two magnificent, clean and successful fights as state chairman and the members of the congressional delegation ought to feel especially friendly toward him. In the recent election he not only helped in holding in the democratic column the eleven districts then represented by democrats, but he turned over his own, the Sixth, and made it a democratic district. Joe Reilly and Myron King, who served the state committee as its secretaries, have been rewarded and Chairman Jackson certainly deserves a good place."

Mr. Jackson has not yet been consulted as to the movement in his behalf, but a telegram may be sent to him today. It is assumed that he would not object to whatever steps the delegation may see fit to take.

Finly Gray, member-elect from the Sixth district, is expected here this week and a conference of members of the delegation probably will be held when he comes. The members desire, for one thing, to unite in a movement to push the dollar-a-day pension bill. Another topic to be discussed is how to distribute the places that are coming to Indiana equitably among the twelve Indiana democratic members-elect.

"We want to make an arrangement," said Mr. Barnhart, "that will enable all of us to come up to the manger abreast."

CORONER APPROVED ACID.

Danville, Ills., Dec. 7.—Pearl Freeman, 26 years old, living near this city, committed suicide last night by drinking carbolic acid. He leaves a wife and three children. Freeman rode into the city with the coroner of the country and during the trip hey discussed suicide, and he coroner remarked that carbolic acid produced almost instantaneous death. As he stepped from the car Freeman pulled a bottle of acid from his pocket and drank the contents. Five minutes later he was dead. Despondency is supposed to have been the cause.

Following out the plans formulated early last spring the board of public works will sink several wells in the course of a few months with a view of augmenting the water supply and today advertisements have been inserted in the newspaners asking for bids.

BALLINGER IS EXONERATED

Majority Report of Joint Committee Given Out With Findings.

SECRETARY IS ALL RIGHT ALL WAYS

Not a Spot or Blemish on Him or His Record in Administration.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Vindicating Secretary of the Interior Ballinger upon all the charges brought against him, and condemning his accusers as having been inspired by a deep feeling of animosity built upon a supposed difference in policy respecting conservation, a majority of the congressional committee which investigated the so-called Ballinger-Pinchot case today submitted its report to congress.

After stating that the evidence presented related in the main to charges of various kinds against Mr. Ballinger and that these came chiefly from two sources—L. R. Glavis and Gifford Pinchot—the majority announced the following conclusion:

"The evidence has wholly failed to make out a case. Neither any fact proved nor all the facts put together exhibit Mr. Ballinger as being anything but a competent and honorable gentleman, honestly and faithfully performing the duties of his high office with an eye single to the public interest."

Signers of the Report.

The report was signed by Senators Knute Nelson, chairman; Frank P. Flint, George Sutherland and Elihu Root, and Representatives Samuel W. McCall, of Massachusetts, vice chairman; Marlin E. Olmsted, of Pennsylvania, and Edwin Denby, of Michigan, all republicans. A few months ago the democratic members, Senators D. U. Fletcher and William E. Purcell and Representatives Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, and James M. Graham, of Illinois, together with Representative Edmond H. Madison, of Kansas, progressive republicans, gave out another report which they maintained to be the majority opinion, condemning the conduct of Mr. Ballinger as secretary of the interior.

This report was made public following a meeting of the committee in Minneapolis last September which was not attended by some of the republicans who now have exonerated Mr. Ballinger and therefore the natural minority became a majority and the republicans who were present, with the exception of Mr. Madison, withdrew and broke the quorum.

Conclusions Are Recent.

The members who now sign the majority report formulated their conclusions at a recent series of meetings.

In speaking of the "animosity" created by differences respecting the conservation of natural resources, the majority of the committee said that the accusers evidently had this policy at heart and were "evidently disposed to take a most unfavorable view of the character and motives of any one whom they supposed to be opposed to their views. They thus came to regard Mr. Ballinger with suspicion and to regard the most natural and innocent acts occurring in the ordinary course of department adjustment as furnishing evidence of some sinister purpose."

The Findings.

The report makes the following specific findings:

"That the charges and insinuations against Secretary Ballinger in regard to the Cunningham coal entries, or other land claims in Alaska, are not justified and his conduct in respect thereto is not justly censurable.

"That he was fully justified in revoking the Indian co-operative agreement.

"That the restorations of water power sites by Secretary Ballinger were made in good faith and not in enmity to the government * * * and that no injury appears to have been done to the government and the cause of conservation by either the restorations or withdrawals.

"That, in view of the opinion of the attorney general, he was justified in abandoning the use of the so-called water users' co-operative certificates in connection with the reclamation of arid lands.

"That the administration of the reclamation law presented features justly subject to criticisms.

No Improper Conduct Shown.

"No unfair criticism or improper conduct on Secretary Ballinger's part has been shown nor any action by him not within the sound discretion of the head of the interior department in the faithful performance of his duty.

"That he is not an enemy of, nor hostile to a reasonable and judicious policy of conservation, and that no ground whatever has been shown justifying the opinion that he is not a faithful and efficient public officer."

Alaska Coal Lands Safe.

After setting forth the fact that the entire known coal fields of Alaska, covering more than eight million acres is still in government ownership, the report takes up the bearing upon the strife between Secretary Ballinger and other officials of the government including several of his subordinates, and Mr. Pinchot who was deposed as government forester. The report then says:

"Your committee finds that the interests of the people as owners of the Alaskan coal fields are not threatened or endangered under existing conditions."

REDMONDITES LOSE IN CORK

Bitter Fight Between the Irish Factions Brings Independent Gain

O'BRIEN AND HEALY ARE TRIUMPHANT

Latest Returns in Parliamentary Election Show Coalition Gains.

London, Dec. 7.—The most interesting of today's election news came from Cork City, where in the polling of yesterday the independent-nationalists defeated the Redmondites in the bitterest fight of the campaign.

William O'Brien, leader of the independents, was returned with a slightly increased majority of 638 over William Redmond, brother of the nationalist leader. Morris Healy, who was defeated last January by the nationalist candidate, A. Roche, who had a majority of 200, turned the tables on Roche, winning the seat with 526 votes to spare.

So much feeling was aroused between the parties that it was thought wise not to announce the victory for the "All for Ireland" party last night and the results were first made known today.

In the preceding election O'Brien had a majority of 759 over Dr. W. Murphy. At the same time the other nationalist candidate was elected.

Bitter Fight It Was.

In the present campaign William Redmond, the sitting member for the east division of Clare, decided to contest O'Brien's seat for Cork and the announcement of his intention was the signal for a fight that on several occasions developed into serious rioting.

The net result in Cork yesterday was the gain of a Redmondite seat by the O'Brienites who up to the present have elected five members as against 2 Redmondites chosen.

The unionists are still numerically the strongest individual party with an aggregate of 151. The coalition forces, however, total 167, including the "O'Brienites." The state of parties this afternoon was: Coalition: Liberals, 110; Irish nationalists, 37; laborites, 20. Total, 167.

Opposition: Unionists, 151.

The "All for Ireland" party won both seats in Cork city, M. Healy defeating Augustine Roche.

The vote was: O'Brien, 5,384; Redmond, 4,746. Healy, 5,269; Roche, 4,743.

The unopposed returns are:

Unionists, Wm. Thompson, north division of Down; E. Royds, Sleaford division of Lincolnshire; Austen Chamberlain, east division of Worcestershire, and Arthur H. Lee, Fareham division of Hants.

Liberals: Sir A. Williamson, Elgin and Nairn; Sir J. Brigg, Keighley division of Yorkshire, West Riding; Sir J. Barran, Hawk.

Nationalists: T. Scanlan, north division county Sligo; P. Crunley, south division of county Fermanagh; John Swift MacNeall, south division of county Donegal.

Among those returned today the most interesting candidates were Arthur Hamilton Lee, who was the British military attache in the United States army during the Spanish-American war and later military attache at Washington; Austen Chamberlain and John Swift MacNeill, who has sat for Donegal, south, since 1887.

FOUND HIS HAT ON ICE.

James Bell Probably In the River Under the Ice.

Danville, Ill., Dec. 7.—The body of James Bell, of Indianapolis is probably at the bottom of the Vermilion river in this city. Last Saturday morning the police found a hat on the ice in the river and evidence that a man had either cut the ice and suicided or had accidentally fallen in. The hat was purchased at 57 North Pennsylvania avenue, Indianapolis. This morning the relatives of Bell reported to the police that he had been missing since Friday night. They identified the hat as one worn by the missing man. It is impossible to drag the river on account of the thick ice.

WRECKED CONSUL'S GARAGE.

Italian Agent in Seattle Victim of a Dynamite Outrage.

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 7.—An explosion in the garage in the rear of the residence of Dr. A. J. Ghiglione, the Italian consul, early this morning shattered all the windows, chinaware and crockery in the house and broke windows in nearby residences. Dr. Ghiglione, his wife and two children were asleep when the explosion occurred. They were not injured. At Dr. Ghiglione's residence it was asserted that the explosion was caused by dynamite being placed in the garage by enemies of the consul.

NEW YORK JURIST DEAD.

New York, Dec. 7.—Justice Charles W. Dayton, of the New York supreme court, died at his home here today. Pneumonia was the immediate cause of death. He served as postmaster of New York city during the second Cleveland administration and was elected to the supreme court in 1896.

Allen lodge, No. 29, Degree of Honor, will have an election of officers tomorrow evening.

PRESIDENT IS EMBARRASSED

Appointment of Justices of Supreme Court is Made Difficult.

CANNOT SECURE AN AGREEMENT

Regulars, Insurgents and Democratic Senators Have Ideas.

Washington, Dec. 7.—President Taft is reported by persons who profess to know something of his views, to be disappointed and somewhat chagrined over the situation that has arisen in connection with the pending supreme court appointments.

The president's consultations with the regular and "insurgent" republicans and with the democrats of the senate have developed a difference of opinion among the members of the upper house, which promises to make the president's already difficult task a much harder one. The president has consulted as many senators as possible in order to be sure that the nominations he makes will be acceptable to the confirming body. He has called in senators of all political complexion.

Insurgents Stand Pat.

The insurgent senators, it is said, have agreed among themselves that th enew members of the supreme court must not be men of reactionary tendencies or temperament. They are said to be insisting that the new judges shall be men of sufficiently advanced ideas to decide questions of the day along broad lines and not be bound by legal technicalities.

The regular republicans on the other hand are not willing that these new theories as to judgship qualifications shall be the determining factor as to the fitness of candidates.

Democratic senators have egun insisting that one of the new justices shall be a democrat. The death of Chief Justice Fuller left only two democrats on the supreme bench—Justices White and Lurton.

MAY CUT OUT VERBAL FLOODS

Attorneys in Big Trust Appeal Cases May Submit Old Briefs.

AGREEMENT IS LIKELY

Washington, Dec. 7.—The war of words indulged in by counsel in the presentation last term of the big corporation cases to the supreme court of the United States is to be reduced an irreducible minimum in the reargument of the cases next January.

The government and the tandard Oil company will resubmit the briefs they filed last March in the argument of the proposed dissolution under the Sherman anti-trust law of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. A movement is on foot to have opposing counsel in the tobacco dissolution suit and the corporation tax cases agree to resubmit the old briefs also.

How much work is evolved in justices in consideration of the briefs has been estimated from the number of words contained therein. In the Standard Oil case the briefs approximate 693,000 words; in the tobacco case 379,000 and in the corporation tax case about 300,000. The record brief in the Standard Oil case consists of twenty-three large volumes containing approximately 1,875,000 words.

Awful Experience of Seven Chinese Girls Shipped as White Slaves.

WITHOUT LIGHT OR AIR ON VOYAGE

Attempt to Smuggle Them from Hong Kong Proves a Failure.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 7.—Seven Chinese girls, captured on Sunday when an attempt was being made to smuggle them ashore from the steamer Manchuria, told a story yesterday that for brutality concedes nothing to the workings of the earlier African slave trade. Immigration officials say there is no doubt that the girls were being brought here to be sold in to the slave trade. Their ages are from 14 to 19 years. All but one of them declare that they were kidnaped in Hong Kong. This one had previously been in America and had been deported.

No Air and No Light.

The narrative was obtained from the girls by Chief Assistant Immigration Commissioner Harry Edsell, who spoke to them in their own tongue. They said they had made the journey from China in a locker fourteen feet square, below decks, a place without ventilation. Not a ray of light, natural or artificial, did they see on the whole voyage. The eight Chinese men who were captured at the same time as the girls were with them in the room, but no one else visited them until they reached port. Their only food and drink was some dried fruit and cold tea, of which a supply had been left for them before the departure of the boat.

Country Girl Kidnaped.

One of the girls, the youngest of the party, says she had come from her country home on a visit to Hong Kong. A smooth-tongued countryman told her a great pageant was being held on the big American steamer and said he thought he might be able to get an admission for her. She fell into the trap. Another says she was drugged by her kidnaper.

Edsell says a thorough investigation is to be made of the operations of the smuggling ring that is supposed to be at work, and that every effort will be made to discover whether any government officials are involved.

OLD UNCLE AB IS GIVEN CLEANING

Government Gets His Nice $4,500,000 Out of a Leipsic Bank.

OLD TURK HIT HARD

Leipsic, Dec. 7.—The suit instituted by representatives of the Turkish government against the Reichsbank to compel that institution to surrender $4,500,000 which it has on deposit to the credit of the deposed sultan, Abdul Hamid, came before the imperial supreme court today.

When Abdul Hamid entrusted his personal fortune to the Reichsbank he exacted a solemn agreement that the funds should not be withdrawn except on presentation of an order under his hand and seal. After he was driven from the throne the new government attempted to recover these funds and laid before the bankers what purported to be a letter from the deposed sultan authoring their withdrawal.

Did Not Have Secret Seal.

The order, however, did not bear the secret seal agreed upon and the bank which took the further ground that their customer being practically a prisoner, was unable to act of his own free will, refused to surrender the money.

Suit was then brought against the bank in the name of the former sultan in the provincial court at Berlin. This court dismissed the complaint, holding it was brought under compulsion and otherwise sustained the contentions of the Reichsbank.

After the hearing of testimony, the imperial supreme court refused to entertain the plea that Abdul Hamid signed the order of withdrawal under duress and decided that the Reichsbank must pay the money as demanded.

Mrs. Elwood Craig of West DeWald street, has been removed to her home from the Lutheran hospital where she had been for three weeks on account of a surgical operation.

SENATOR FLEMING A FIRST ARRIVAL

One of Early Birds at a Conference of Democratic Senators.

FRAMING A PROGRAM

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 7.—Senator Frank M. Kistler, of Logansport; Stephen B. Fleming, of Fort Wayne, and Bernard Shively, of Marion, were the first of the democratic senators to arrive to attend the conference which will be held tomorrow at the Dennison hotel. The democratic senators will assemble in response to a call issued by Lieutenant Governor Hall, their conference being set for the afternoon. No one seems to know just what will come before the meeting except that an effort will be made to outline a plan of action and a course for the democrats to pursue during the coming session of the legislature.

It is said the sentiment of practically all senators is that the platform promises should be carried out as quickly as possible after the session begins and that whatever program is mapped out should be based on the platform.

It is probable that the senators will take up the matter of the selection of a floor leader for the coming session. There was talk of Senator Kistler for that position but he says he will not take it and he suggests Senator Evan B. Stotsenburg, of New Albany, as the right man for that place. Stotsenberg will attend the conference and a choice of a leader will probably be made before the meeting closes.

NOTHING NEW IS PROVEN IN CASE

Witnesses in Woodburn Murder Add Little to the Story.

WILL FINISH TODAY

Further inquiry into the death of Von Blodgett was taken up this afternoon by Coroner Kesler and with most all of the testimony before him there has been nothing given to throw any additional light on the matter. Dollarhite struck the blow after Henry Lulfs had been floored by the pool room proprietor and beyond this nothing has been shown.

All of the witnesses agree that there was no quarrel between Dollarhite and Blodgett before the fatal blow was struck and that only a few words passed between Lulfs and the man who lost his life. Prosecutor Thomas, who has been present at all of the hearing stated that the facts first given to the public in the case are about right.

Attorney Phil B. Colerick has been retained by the relatives of Dollarhite and Lulfs to look after their ineresits and he will endeavor to have the latter admitted to bail as soon as the inquest has been finished.

When Lulfs testified yesterday he exhibited a mark left by the blow he received in the pool room and said that he remembers very little after he was struck as he was stunned and did not regain full consciousness until he had been removed from h pool room.

The coroner will finish taking the testimony this afternoon and a finding will be ready in the course of a few days.

DEATH SUMMONS CHARLES KRAMER

Well Known St. Joe Township Farmer Has Passed Away.

WAS BANK DIRECTOR

Charles Kramer, one of the most prominent farmers of St. Joseph township, and a director of the German-American National bank in this city, died at 11:15 o'clock this morning at his home on the Leo road, seven miles northeast of the city.

Mr. Kramer was 64 years of age and death came as the termination of an illness which began in June last, when Mr. Kramer was stricken by paralysis while at work in a gravel pit upon his farm. He suffered a number of subsequent strokes, and had been critically ill for some time. He was well known, highly esteemed and was one of the substantial citizens of Allen county.

Born in Lucas county, Ohio, May 28, 1846, Mr. Kramer came with his parents to Allen county when but a small child. The family located in Washington township, and here the son was reared. At 25 years of age he embarked in railroad work and was thus employed for ten years, seven years of that time as an engineer, and during which time he never had an accident. It was a record of which Mr. Kramer often spoke with pride. When his savings permitted it, Mr. Kramer purchased a farm in St. Joe township and left railroad work. By thrift and industry he gradually added to his acres until his holdings included one of the finest farm tracts in the county. When the German-American bank was organized a few years ago in this city he was chosen a member of the board of directors.

Mr. Kramer was united in marriage in 1872 to Miss Sophia Rose, whose death occurred a few years ago. Six children—three sons and three daughters—survive. They are Charles, Henry, Arthur and Miss Amanda Kramer, Mrs. Emma Rose and Mrs. Eliza Rodland. Mr. Kramer was a member of the Lutheran church.

The young man recently underwent a surgical operation. He was born and reared near Roanoke and was well known and popular. The remains were taken to the family home today for funeral services and interment.

This was one of Mayor Grice's campaign promises and a short time after he took hold he said he would take the matter up as soon as he could reach it, but so much public work has been under course of construction during the summer that it was not thought wise to undertake anything new.

THEY GROW

Good Humor and Cheerfulness From Right Food and Drink.

Anything that interferes with good health is apt to keep cheerfulness and good humor in the background. A Washington lady found that letting coffee alone made things bright for her. She writes:

"Four years ago I was practically given up by my doctor and was not expected to live long. My nervous system was in a bad condition.

"But I was young and did not want to die so I began to look about for the cause of my chronic trouble. I used to have nervous spells which would exhaust me and after each spell it would take me days before I could sit up in a chair.

"I became convinced my trouble was caused by coffee. I decided to stop it and bought some Postum.

"The first cup, which I made according to directions, had a soothing effect on my nerves and I liked the taste. For a time I nearly lived on Postum and ate little food besides. I am today a healthy woman.

"My family and relatives wonder if I am the same person I was four years ago, when I could do no work on account of nervousness. Now I am doing my own housework, take care of two babies—one twenty the other two months old. I am so busy that I hardly get time to write a letter, yet I do it all with the cheerfulness and good humor that comes from enjoying good health.

"I tell my friends it is to Postum I owe my life today."

Read "The Road to Wellville," in packages. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

First Steps Toward Increasing City Water Supply Now On.

BIDS ALREADY ASKED

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 7.—In order to have a secret discussion of the proposed bill to codify the township laws, the Indiana State Trustees' association went into closed session this afternoon in the Pythian building. The bill as drafted and submitted to the association provides for a number of sweeping changes in township affairs. It would divide the townships into seven classes, according to population, official salaries to be governed by the class, abolish the township advisory board, enable the trustees to appoint the road supervisors, give the trustees direct control of the poor funds, and enable them to let contracts and exercise other powers. The general effect of the bill as drawn would be to give the trustees vastly increased powers and to increase the salaries of trustees, township assessors and other officials.

ANSWERS LIFE'S MOST IMPORTANT QUESTION.

heard as soloist while the audience was grasping the swing of some of the gospel melodies which had come from the prolific pen of Mr. Harkness, the composer-pianist, who, sitting at the piano, keeps his eyes on the director, on the audience—anywhere, in fact, except on the instrument—as he plays. The audience again completely filled the rink, and personal workers declared the crowd was remarkable for the proportion of those who made no profession of religion.

Most Important Question.

"I purpose this evening trying to answer the most important question that a man might try to answer, or that any might ask another man to try to answer," said Rev. W. P. Nicholson at the opening of his address at Princess rink last night.

"There are some people who say that the most important question is a matter of money—how may a man amass a fortune? They say that that is the great question. There are others again who say that the most important question is, how may I regain health? Well, health is a wonderful blessing from God. There are those again who say that the most important question is, how may I get the greatest amount of pleasure and the greatest amount of happiness out of this life? Well, happiness is also a wonderful blessing from God. But if you had all the wealth in the world, and all the health to enjoy that wealth, and if you had every pleasure and life itself was worth living, what good would that be to you if you were not saved?

What Must I Do to Be Saved?

My question tonight is this: "What must I do to be saved?" There are three classes of people here tonight. If I were to ask you are you saved, some of you would say, "I think I am." But nobody who knows you would think so. They find you at the card parties, they find you at the five-cent shows, at all the theatricals around the country, at every dance and ball that is held, and not for a single moment would anybody think you were saved. No one would even suspect it. If you are really saved it will be manifested in your life. The most logical argument to the man on the street as to whether you are a Christian is your life itself. If your life does not square with your profession it is a sham. Do you know Jesus Christ as your personal Savior? If you do, your life will show it, and your husband will know it, and your friends and your enemies and your children will know it, because Christ cannot be hid.

Those Who "Hope So."

Then if I were to say to others of you, Are you saved? you would say, "Well, I hope so." I would say, "Are you sure?" and you would reply, "Well, I am not sure." Then the very fact of your uncertainty provec that you are not saved.

Over in Scotland an old woman 73 years of age who had been a member of the church for fifty years, had lived a very moral, religious and respectable life. During a mission there I said to her, "Mother, are you saved?" "Well," she said, "I cannot say. I am not sure." "Well," I said, "are you going to heaven?" "I hope so," she said, "but I am not sure." I said, "Are you going to hell?" "Well," she said, "I hope not, but I am not sure." "Now, mother," I said, "if you met me out at the crossroads tomorrow where the road to the right leads to Glasgow and the road to the left leads to Carlisle, and you said, 'Mr. Nicholson, are you going to Glasgow?' and I said, 'Well, I hope so, but I am not sure.' Then you ask me, 'Well, are you going to Carlisle?' and I said, 'Well, I hope not, but I am not sure.' Now, mother, what word would you just use to describe my condition?" To my dying day I will never forget the look on that old woman's face. Tears filled her eyes as she said "My God, son, but I am lost. I do not know where I am. I cannot say I am going up, and I do not like to think I am going down."

Uncertainty Shows It.

"And was it not glorious to be able to say the Son of Man came to seek and to save that which was lost. My friend, the very fact of your uncertainty shows that you are not saved. If your only hope is the hope that maketh ashamed, you will be ashamed to testify to it. But if it is a hope that is built on nothing else than Jesus' blood, glory to God you will let everybody know about it, by your life as well as by your lips.

"There are those again whom God has blest with a very healthy conscience. You know right well you are not saved. You know right well if you died tonight you would perish. You would not join the church because you have not enough interest in Christ. Your mother has raised you well, your minister has instructed you well and you know right well that you are not saved. You need to say tonight, my brother and my sister, what must I do to be saved.

"Of course, there are those today who do not like the good old fashioned word 'saved.' They like to talk about having a change, and they say they have joined the church, and they say they are anything but that good, old, rugged Saxon word, "Saved." But if you have ever realized that you were lost and have entered into the blessing of God, and have experienced salvation, you are very fond of that word. There is not another word in all the English language that can express just exactly what you mean when you say, 'Thank God, I am a saved man.' Some of you say, 'But I don't want to be saved,' yet you know very well that if the Angel of Death were to walk along these aisles tonight your face would whiten. You are standing on the brink of eternity.

The Four Essentials.

"What must I do to be saved? There are four things that everyone of us must do:

"(1) You must acknowledge that you are a sinner and that you are lost.

"(2) You must offer yourself in complete abandonment to Jesus Christ.

"(3) You must ask the Lord to save you, and

"(4) You must accept Him as your personal Saviour."

SCOPE GROWS DAILY.

Broadening Influence of Big Evangelistic Campaign.

The inter-church evangelistic campaign in Fort Wayne under the direction of Dr. Chapman and Mr. Alexander sweeps forward daily with an ever-broadening influence that is reaching every portion of the city.

Not only in the central meeting at Princess rink, but at the district meetings over the city attendance is growing, interest is deeper and results are more definite in the actual turning of people to Christ.

At the First M. E. church last night, Rev. C. P. Goodson preached from the text, "This man receiveth sinners," and Mrs. Goodson, a daughter of Dr. Chapman, sang "I Love Him," George T. B. Davis presented the Pocket Testament league, and nearly fifty persons agreed to read and carry a testament daily. Mr. Remminger directed the singing.

At the Third Presbyterian church Rev. Dr. Toy's theme was "The Brazen Serpent," and the meeting was an excellent one from every point of view. Frank Dickson was in charge of the song service. Excellent reports come also from the meeting at St. Paul M. E. church conducted by Miss Millar, and from the Bloomingdale meeting conducted by Mr. Lowe at Trinity M. E. church.

Today Richard Tjader, of New York, conducted the quiet hour service at Plymouth Congregational church, and his talk was upon the work and influence of the Holy Spirit. An address by Ralph C. Norton to the personal workers followed at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Fleming Endorses It.

Staff workers and committee members interviewed Senator Fleming yesterday upon his return from New York, asking for an endorsement of the evangelistic efforts, particularly as to the work of Mr. and Mrs. Asher. Senator Fleming dictated the following statement:

"Mr. Asher called on me today in respect to the meetings which they wish to conduct throughout the city in a number of the saloons and other places where people congregate, and after understanding his position in the matter I heartily indorse the same; their position being that their appeal to the people is an appeal to conscience, and their movement is not one on the basis of the Anti-Saloon league where they are endeavoring to mix affairs of state with religion. I hope that their meetings wherever held will be a success.

Speaking of the Cunningham claims the committee finds that it would be improper for it to pass upon the merits of these claims and thus prejudge them while they are pending. "If they are fraudulent, the claims should be cancelled. The claimants are entitled to an impartial judgment upon their rights in the premises."

Some Nice Dope.

"Your committee believes it would be the height of unwisdom to permit these great coal fields to be monopolized or gathered into the private ownership of a few for speculative purposes. As they increase in value the increment should inure to the benefit of all the people. To bring about this result and at the same time put an end to the unreasonable condition now existing your committee recommend that the government refuse to sell the lands, but that retaining their ownership, it shall grant leases at fair royalties for periods limited long enough and covering areas large enough to justify the necessary investments upon sound business principles and thus secure the opening and operation of sufficient mines to meet the necessities of Alaskan consumption; afford relief from the present outrageous prices paid by consumers, and at the same time afford some revenue to the government. We recommend legislation to that end, and that, pending such legislation, the existing withdrawal from entry of the Alaska coal lands be made."

Question Garfield's Motives.

Commenting upon the blanket withdrawals of public lands which were made by James R. Garfield, when secretary of the interior, the committee says the action was taken by him after he ascertained that he would not be reappointed under President Taft. It is said these withdrawals were made haphazard from the mere inspection of the land-office state maps.

Many of these lands were restored to the public domain by Secretary Ballinger and a portion were again set aside. The rewithdrawals, according to the committee were made by Secretary Ballinger after a "careful examination of the maps, data, and reports in the geological survey," and it is held that the rewithdrawals embraced all of the power sites in the original blanket withdrawals made by Mr. Garfield.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

HE'S A KICKER, BUT OWNER LOVES HIM

Last Feat of Animal Was to Give His Owner Three Broken Ribs.

Warsaw, Ind., Dec. 7.—Despite the fact that he has been kicked several times before by the same horse by which he was kicked yesterday and severely injured, three of his ribs being broken, A. D. Miller, a farmer residing in this county, near Leesburg, is going to hang on to the animal and refuses to sell him, although his family urge him to do so. The horse is a good one, he says, his favorite, and he does not want to part with him.

Tuesday afternoon Mr. Miller entered the stall in the stable where the animal was standing and passing behind him was kicked with the result stated above. He was thrown about ten feet by the force of the blow received. He had intended hitching up the horse for a drive.

On one of the occasions that he was kicked before by this same horse, Mr. Miller was laid up for three months during most of which time he walked on crutches.

WHISKY KILLED CHILD.

Little One Took Father's Bottle and Drank Heavily.

Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 7.—As the result of drinking a large quantity of whisky Milton Price, the three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Price, colored, residing at 1708 Tippecanoe street, died yesterday at the home of the parents of alcoholic poisoning. The day before the father, after taking a drink of whisky himself, made a small toddy for his son, who was suffering with a cold. The father then went down to his work and, unknown to the mother, the boy took the bottle of whisky from the sideboard and drank a large quantity of the liquor. The whisky soon took effect on him and he could not be aroused from the stupor. Dr. W. W. C. Brown was called to the Price home and found the little boy in a precarious condition. His pulse was very weak and the heart was barely beating. The child was unable to swallow an antidote to kill the effects of the alcoholic poisoning and death followed.

BUT LITTLE PRIVATION.

Such Is the Condition of Affairs in Huntington.

Huntington, Ind., Dec. 7.—"Less privation and suffering will be found in Huntington township homes in the coming Christmas season than for several years past," is the assertion of Township Trustee E. M. Stahl, probably the best informed man in the township on such a subject and the fact that he bases his observation on comparative figures secured from an inspection of reports covering the amounts paid out from the poor fund shows that he knows whereof he speaks. Much less money has been expended thus far this winter than in corresponding periods in other years. In general, residents are able to care for themselves and the officer whose duty it is to govern the township's charity has found few requests for assistance.

MAY GIVE OSSIAN ELECTRIC CURRENT

It is Said the Wabash Valley Company is Again Considering the Proposition.

Ossian, Ind., Dec. 7.—With the establishment of the sub-power station north of the Clover Leaf railroad comes the talk of electric lights in Ossian, talk that has been indulged in before this, but what the outcome will be is not known. It is claimed that the Wabash Valley people are again considering the matter of establishing a power house at Ossian and preparing to give Ossian people electric current for whatever purpose they may desire to use it. It is known that officials of the "Valley" were there recently looking over the ground with a view, it is said, of putting in such a plant. Whether they will ask the citizens of Ossian to contribute to the erection of such a building as they did a few years ago, cannot be definitely stated. However, it is certain that the company is at least considering the feasibility of lighting Ossian.

BACK TO PRISON

Must Go Auburn Youth Who Was Out on a Parole.

Auburn, Ind., Dec. 7.—Charles Sthair is in trouble again. He was lodged in jail Tuesday morning by Sheriff Thomas upon complaint of W. H. McIntyre, from whim he has been stealing drills, etc., from the factory. Last summer the young man was let out of the reformatory on parole after having served less than a year of a one-to-eight-year sentence for stealing from a lady boarder at the Sthair home.

But the trust of the state has been betrayed and he will have to go back, and no one realizes it better than he, for he wept bitterly after being locked up, crying, "Eight years for me, now." He confessed to taking the tools.

SON WAS ON A TOOT.

Smashed Furniture and Drove Father Out of the House.

Hartford City, Ind., Dec. 7.—Sheriff Clamme was called to the John Skinner home in the Rite addition Monday night to take in charge the son, James Skinner. James was on a toot and when the sheriff got to the house he found that James had run his father and others except his mother out of the house, had wrecked the furniture and several dollars worth of dishes in a drunken frenzy. He went along with the sheriff without any trouble though stubbornly. Tuesday he was arraigned in Justice Lucas' court for provoke against his father, John Skinner, and for intoxication. James is in jail and it will take him seventeen days to get clear for the two offenses.

WELLS COUNTY PIONEER.

Death at Age of 89 of "Uncle" Wm. Lipkey.

Bluffton, Ind., Dec. 7.—"Uncle" William Lipkey, the very dean of the pioneer citizens of Union township, died yesterday at the home of James Lipkey, in Union township, after a ten day's illness. Death was due to the effects of a severe cold, coupled with the infirmities of his advanced years—he was in his eighty-ninth year. He first arrived in Wells county in about 1848 and took up a tract of land in Union township. He continued to add to this tract until he became the owner of one hundred and eighty acres. He has resided in Union township continuously since 1856.

He was able to sit up in a chair for some little time Monday. He says that he has sensation in the legs to the knees and can move the legs slightly. He realizes that his progress will be very slow from this on and he has fortified himself with remarkable patience and cheerfulness.

BREAKING OUT ALL OVER BODY

Itched Dreadfully. When Scratched It would Bleed and Become Very Sore. Could Scarcely Sleep as the Itching was Worse at Night. Dreaded Putting Hands in Water.

Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment 3 Weeks. Trouble all Disappeared.

"Some time ago I had a breaking out all over my body. It first started like what we call goose flesh and itched dreadfully. When I scratched it, it would bleed and become very sore. I tried almost everything for the itching but none gave me much relief. I could scarcely sleep as the itching was always worse at night. My hands were so sore I dreaded putting them in water and after I would wash dishes or do laundry work that required the use of other soaps they were always worse. This went on for about six months. Then I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and in two or three weeks the trouble all disappeared. I always found that my hands were worse (with a dry scale on them) after using any cheap soap but the Cuticura Soap produced such a soothing feeling on my skin that it was a pleasure to use it. I also know what wonders the Cuticura Remedies have done for a friend of mine, so I would recommend them to any one. Mrs. Delaware Barrett, 611 King St., Wilmington, Del., Nov. 15, 1909."

Cuticura Remedies sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston. Mailed free, 32-page book on Skin Diseases.

FOR CATAAARH.

Medicine Free in Every Case Where It Fails to Relieve.

Neglect or pessimism, we believe, is the greatest enemy the public has to contend with when applied to the loss or recovery of health. Practically every case of consumption might have been cured if hope had been maintained and proper treatment had been resorted to at the first symptom of the disease. Until the advanced stage is reached consumption is curable. Catarrh is responsible, we believe, for many cases of consumption. It is about catarrh we want to talk to you today, incidentally consumption, since the two are so closely allied.

We have a medicine made from a prescription of one of the most successful catarrh specialists known. We believe it is positively without an equal. We are so satisfied that we are right, that we will supply the medicine free in every instance where it is used according to directions for a reasonable length of time, should it fail to give satisfaction in every particular. We want every one to try this medicine at our risk. There are no conditions attached to our offer. We put the user under no obligation to us whatever.

The medicine we want you to try is Rexall Mucu-Tone. It is a catarrh remedy that goes direct to the seat of trouble. It is carried by the blood to every part of the system. It purifies and enriches the blood, tones up the mucous cells and brings about a condition of health and strength that tends to prevent the germs of consumption from getting a start. Besides this, Rexall Mucu-Tone is a wonderful appetizer, digestive aid and flesh builder. Its good effects are often felt from the very first dose. It is one of the largest and most satisfactory selling medicines that we have ever had anything to do wth.

We know so much of the great good that it has done that we personally back it up with our reputation and money, which fact should be ample guarantee to satisfy anybody. Rexall Mucu-Tone comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. We urge you to try it. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Fort Wayne only at our stores—the Rexall Stores, Mayer Bros. Co. AT THE MAJESTIC

GREAT PLAY TONIGHT.

Frances Starr in "The Easiest Way" This Evening.

David Belasco will present Frances Starr in the remarkably successful play by Eugene Walter, "The Easiest Way," at the Majestic theater this evening. Miss Starr will have for her support a company of rare merit, and the scenic equipment will be identical with that provided by David Belasco for the run of the play at the Belasco theater in New York. The central figure of the play is a pleasure loving woman who is finally faced with an opportunity to begin a new and better life. The greatest part of the play deals with her efforts to break off the old ties and associations and take up with the new. Unusual as the play is from many points of view it is particularly notable for the manner in which it is interpreted. Frances Starr has achieved a brilliant success as Laura Murdock. The scenes of the four acts are laid amid the rolling foothills of the eastern slope of the Rockies; in a typical west side theatrical boarding house; in a fashionable apartment house in the metropolis.

MR. TAFT AND HARMONY.

President Taft is looking ahead of the present session of congress at least as far as November, 1912. He wants his administration to show some offsets to what has cost it popularity. His plea for economy, while sincere enough and springing from singleness of purpose, fits in well with the general policy of getting back to the people. His delicate handling of trust matters with a view to giving the country a rest, surely will not be without response from big business and big finance. Great opportunity for impressive things lies along this road. Mr. Taft's monitory conclusion that it will now be well to let up awhile on anti-trust enactments with a view of gaining from experience some knowledge of the operative value of those we already have at first blush is likely to seem all very well. But since the anti-trust laws now on the books do not appear to do much curbing, it is hardly possible to consider the question of further legislation as closed. However, the big trust suits are pending in the supreme court and if the outcome is such as the government seeks the way will be opened under present laws to break up the game of extortion and destruction as the great combinations have practiced these evils upon the public and against their competitors. So it is that Mr. Taft finds it a reasonable proposal and a plausable urgency to commend to congress and the country a cessation of those disturbances which are considered to be "bad for business." Just what degree of acquiescence in these proposals the president will be yielded by the insurgents is by no means clear. There are some who doubtless simply will not "be good." Senator LaFollette, for instance, certainly will not quit fighting railroads so long as there are two parallel streaks of steel and a corporation behind them to engage his valiant efforts. Still, it may be that Mr. Taft can reduce his party in congress to something like a harmony with conservative tendencies against the dawn of the battle day less than two years hence. The plea that an insurgent outside is no better and no better off than a standpatter outside is likely to be not without effect and the president is strong on logic as well as a good persuader.

Friends of Mr. U. Stokes Jackson, democratic state chairman of Indiana, are preparing to claim for him some of the spoil of the great congressional victory this fall. He is to be pushed for sergeant-at-arms of the national house. Chairman Jackson surely has something of the sort coming to him if he wants it. Under his auspices the democratic party has been conducted to a pair of very pretty triumphs in Indiana and he has contributed a big lot to the turning over the national house to Champ Clark and his victorious cohorts. Two years ago the democratic campaign in Indiana gave eleven of the thirteen congressional districts to the party. This year he democrats came near making a clean sweep of the congressional platter, electing an even dozen and giving Hon. Edgar Dean Crumpacker such a chase up in the Tenth district as he had never exerienced since he began going to Washington. Mr. Jackson would make an able sergeant-at-arms and he has good title to that or something equally as nice to have.

The Washington dispatches naively stated that after the clerks in the house and senate had been reading the president's message for awhile, the attendance on the floors thinned and such as remained showed only a languid interest in the enunciation of the admonitions and recommendations from the other end of the avenue. Singular, indeed, that a statesman worthy the name or of the votes of a majority of his constituents should recline on the job when an executive message is being read. Which shows that talking is easier than listening, for not one of the weary and worn solons who yawned and sneaked out but would stand on his feet and talk to twice the length of Mr. Taft's second annual message and never consider that he was testing patience or doing less than ornamenting his position, enlightening his colleagues and shedding fresh renown on the traditions of the chamber.

The colonel and Governor-elect Sim Baldwin, of Connecticut, may yet be brought together for a meeting. This does not refer to any prospective affair with five ounce gloves and a referee, probable as that might appear. It is the desire of men who admire them in common that the gentlemen be friendly. The colonel has already gone something over half way and Judge Baldwin is thought to be melting a bit under the ardent glow of the colonel's desire that all be forgiven and forgotten. May it so be.

Something of a row has been stirred up in Chicago public schools because boy pupils were being taught to use a needle. Maybe all right to cut out the stitching of dainty muslins, as they were being tutored, but anyhow they should be instructed far enough in the art of sewing to put a suspender button where it belongs and so it will stay put. Their lines and lot will never be cast where that accomplishment will not now and then be useful.

The state's penal code will have one large and disgraceful hole in it so long as it is impossible to deal with wife-beaters and negligent household heads in such fashion as will take the worst edge off the misery they create. The state owes all such men a job at wages which the wife and children can have the benefit of.

Bathtubmakers are indicted for maintaining a trust in restraint of trade and public cleanliness. And speaking of immunity—bathtubmaker, bathe thyself!

Ask and ye shall receive has no application to the president and his importunities to congress.

A Japanese admiral has been snubbed out in California because white society girls would not attend a ball given in honor of the officers of the visiting oriental fleet. That ought to get another rise out of the war cloud without a wait.

A Field at Home.

A Boston gentleman was showing a West African who is interested in missionary work a number of photographs.

"What is this?" asked the visitor, gazing in wonder at one of them.

"But has your church no missionaries to send among these people?" was the quick rejoinder. — Boston Transcript.

WELLESLEY GIRLS TO RAISE BIG FUND

Put Ban on Candy, Cab Rides and Breakfast Parties to Get Building.

SELL HOT SAUSAGES

Boston, Mass., Dec. 7.—Wellesley college girls are going to give up candy, cab rides, breakfast parties and many other things dear to the feminine heart so that they can raise $100,000 for a new students' building. Under the leadership of Miss Dorothy Applegate, a senior, the anti-luxury movement is well under way and proprietors of local candy stores are sad and cabmen are despondent.

"In the first place," says Miss Applegate, "every one is to give up everything and put the money into the Wellesley bank for the student building fund. Never ride when you can walk, and never eat when you have to pay.

"All flowers for your pet senior must be cut out. Adoption of these plans has in one week brought in $100. We'll do it for the rest of the year.

"We have a college orchestra, very much in demand, too. Plays at all the dances at the barn, including the 'Barnswallow' plays. We are going to manage many ice carnivals this winter on Lake Waban. The lake is the coldest place in Massachusetts, and our coffee and doughnuts and sausages will surely sell. We are also going to hold a fair, a good old-fashioned church fair, right here at the college.

"If Wellesley's morals can stand it, and if the police do not interfere, we might hold a raffle, too, in connection with the fair. We will also split the profits with the Amherst Dramatic club and the D. U. club, of Harvard, when they make their annual visit to Wellesley.

"We are going to begin work at once on a toboggan slide, five cents a slide. We also are arranging for 'silent dinners,' to be given at the various college houses. No one will be allowed to speak, the penalty being ten cents. Taking the average college girl, for example, this scheme should bring a large amount toward the fund."

The building will fill a long felt want at Wellesley. It will contain an auditorium large enough to seat the whole student body. At the present time there is no hall that seats more than two-thirds of the 1,400 students.

They cannot be beat for a fine Xmas present, Kim or Fort Wayne Guard cigars, put up 25 in a box.

CATARRH
A SPECIFIC BLOOD IMPURITY

Catarrh is a deep-seated blood disease, one which no amount of local treatment will ever permanently cure. The beneficial effects of washes, sprays, inhalations, etc., are only temporary, and when left off the old condition returns, because the blood is infected with catarrhal matter and impurities. This impure condition of the circulation irritates and inflames the delicate mucous membranes and tissues and produces the well known symptoms of ringing noises in the head and ears, mucus in the throat, headaches, watery eyes, partial deafness, sore throat, general impairment of health, etc. This condition will remain, growing worse as long as the catarrhal matter is allowed to remain in the blood. Being a specific blood impurity, there is only one way to cure Catarrh, and that is to purify the blood. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. It attacks the disease at its head—in the circulation—and by thoroughly renovating the blood and cleansing it of all impure matter, makes a permanent and lasting cure of the disease. For forty years S. S. S. has been recognized as the best blood purifier, and the thousands of cases of Catarrh it has cured is proof that it is the very medicine needed by those who suffer with this trouble. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

For Her Father's Sake.

"I want to have an understanding with you," said the outspoken old man when the expert in voice culture had asked him to sit down, according to the Chicago Record-Herald. "I want you to tell me the truth about my daughter's voice."

"My dear sir, don't ask me to do that. It is too painful."

"What! Do you dare to look me in the face and insinute that she is never likely to be able to sing?"

"I am very sorry, sir, but if you will compel me to speak the truth it is as you say."

"Then why the mischief have you been letting her come here for two years and hand you my good money in return for your lessons?"

"Because I have wished to serve you, sir. Whenever I tell young ladies they can't sing they go to a teacher on the floor below, and he charges 50 cents a lesson more than I get. You can figure for yourself what I have saved you on three lessons a week for two years."—New York World.

Cures Rheumatism.

If it Don't You Can Get Your Money Back, Says Meyer Bros. Co.

Now when Meyer Bros. Co., the well known druggists, make such an offer as that, where, oh, where, is the man or woman full of Uric Acid poison, which is the same as rheumatism, who is going to turn it down?

Meyer Bros. Co. have sold a whole lot of Rheuma these last few months, and if it didn't do as advertised they couldn't afford to make the offer.

Here is more proof: Porter Smith, Dobbin, W. Va., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from Rheumatism for about 26 years, and the disease had become chronic. I began taking Rheuma with little faith in its virtues, but was better from the first day I began its use, and at this time have no more pains."—Feb. 20, 1910.

IN THE CITY'S CHURCHES

GREAT REVIVAL OF 15 YEARS AGO

Begun by "Billy" Sunday, Dr. Chapman Continued Notable Campaign.

CLOSED DEC. 5, 1895.

It was just fifteen years ago last Monday that Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman closed his former evangelistic campaign in this city, a series of religious meetings that lasted for nearly three weeks. It was the nigh of December 5, 1895. I was a Thursday night, however, the fifth of December that year coming on Thursday.

The series of meetings then, as is the case with the central meetings now, were held at the Princess rink, and it was the only center at which night meetings were held. In regard to preaching evangelists Dr. Chapman was alone. He spoke every night and also spoke at the auxilliary meetings during the day, held at different churches. He had with him then only his two singers, Mr. and Mrs. Lowe.

His John, the Baptist.

The forerunner of Dr. Chapman in that great religious campaign—his "John, the Baptist," the newspapers called him then—was Rev. William A. Sunday, known then as the "base ball evangelist," now one of the famous and among the most effective religious workers i the country, just about as peculiar in his methods then as now.

Mr. Sunday began his meetings here on Sunday, November 9, 1895, speaking at the Baptist church in the morning, at the city department of the Y. M. C. A. in the afternoon, and the First Presbyterian church in the evening. Mr. Sunday was then 22 years of age and had been with Dr. Chapman as an assistant for a year.

He remained here for a week, speaking at union meetings held in different churches every evening and starting the religious wave that came in increased force with the meetings of Dr. Chapman. His mission of paving the way for his chief finished, he left for other fields that required his preparatory work.

Dr. Chapman Arrives.

Dr. Chapman arrived in the city on Saturday evening, November 15 and on the following Suday afternoon at the Princess rink preached his first sermon, his theme being "What Must I Do to Be Saved?" He was introduced to the audience by Rev. P. J. Rice, the chairman of the devotional committee, and then pastor of the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ.

The big rink was crowded, crowded from end to end and side to side, every chair occupied, people standing all around the hall and hundreds turned away at the doors unable to get admittance. The same crowded condition of the rink existed at the evening meeting when Dr. Chapman again preached another strong revival sermon.

The rink was differently arranged for the services then. The platform from which the evangelist spoke was in the center of the east side of the auditorium. It was a huge especially constructed platform for the great chorus choir of 200 voices, under the leadership of E. F. Yarnelle, the ministers and many others.

Above the rear of the platform was "the reporters' gallery." They called it that. It was really a coop, or hay mow loft about four by ten feet in dimensions, and to reach it one had to climb up a ladder. But the reporters for each of the four daily papers were there every night and throughout the series of meetings gave from two to three columns each day to the the sermons and other features.

Had Great Audiences.

Throughout the almost three weeks of meetings Dr. Chapman had great audiences and his auxiliary meetings held at other places during the day were also well attended. They proved a great religious awakening for the city. Many were converted and there were many accessions to the different churches. In giving an account of the closing meeting, the Sentinel in its issue of December 6, 1895, said:

"These meetigs have brought to a close one of the most remarkable religious revivals ever held in Fort Wayne. They have given an impetus to Christianity in our city that will tell for good for long years to come. It was not a revival of one church, but of many. Shoulder to shoulder with Dr. Chapman stood the pastors of the pastors of the various city churches and the members of their congregations, laboring for the salvation of souls. They have done a great work, how great for the goods accomplished will never be known except by the angels in heaven who keep a record of the redeemed souls."

Immediately following the close of the Chapman meetings revival services were begun in a number of the city churches and there were hundreds of accessions to the memberships rolls.

HAS COMPLETED A VAST WORK

SAMUEL A. BINION

New York, Dec. 7.—With the complete manuscript of his latest work, "A Dictionary of Names," which has occupied occasional periods of his time during the last sixteen years, Dr. Samuel A. Binion returned from London, where he completed his manuscript in the British museum.

"A Dictionary of Names" is the first complete work showing the meaning of personal names. Dr. Binion, who is an American physician, seventy-three years old, was the author of "Ancient Egypt, or Mizraim," which is a work on the art and archaeology of that country; "The Kabbalah," which is included in Charles Dudley Warner's "Library of the World's Best Literature," and "Phyllantography," in which he presents an alphabet for decorative art.

Dr. Binion is best known, perhaps, for his English translation of "Quo Vadis" and "With Fire and Sword."

MILLION DOLLAR ESTATE FOR LABORER FOUND FEEDING COWS IN SCOTLAND

Fortune Left by James J. McClusky, of New York, to Go to His Brother, Who Hopes to Find His Sister and Share His Luck With Her.

FROM LEFT TO RIGHT, J. M. McCLUSKY, ANDREW WILSON AND J. McELMEEL

New York, Dec. 7.—John M. McClusky, fifty-five years old, a laborer on a farm at Busby, near Glasgow, Scotland, was slicing turnips to feed to cows in October last when he received word that a lawyer was waiting to inform him he was heir to a fortune in New York city amounting approximately to $1,000,000.

"All right," McClusky replied. "Tell him to wait. I've got to finish feeding the cows."

After the cows had received their turnips McClusky's employer, William Ballantyne, led him to the house, where Andrew Wilson, a lawyer of this city, informed him he was sole beneficiary by the will of his brother, James J. McClusky, who died here July 29 last. John McClusky arrived here on board the Campania, of the Cunard line, to receive the estate.

One of the items of the legacy comprises two plots, improved with five story buildings, one at Nos. 248 to 254 Greenwich street, and the other, a wing of the former, at Nos. 83 and 85 Park place.

The Greenwich street plot is 41.2x84.10 feet, and the Park place property is a plot measuring 40.3x52.1 feet. The assessed valuation, with improvements, is $69,000. The rest of the estate, according to Mr. Wilson, consists of personal property.

James J. McClusky, who was born in county Tyrone, Ireland, in 1835, according to a notice at the time of his death, came to this city thirty-five years ago. He was a nephew of Mgr. McMahon, founder of McMahon Hall, a Catholic university, in Washington D. C. Five years ago he went to Ireland in search of his brother. He was informed that his brother was in Australia and returned to this city.

As administrator of the estate, Mr. Wilson went to Ireland early last fall to find the beneficiary. At Corry, in County Tyrone, he met one McElmeel, a farm hand and a cousin of the McCluskys, who last heard from John in Glasgow. They visited Glasgow and published handbills, offering a reward of $25 for information regarding the heir.

Mr. Ballantyne's attention was called to the bills by a Catholic priest. Within a week Mr. Wilson received a call from he farm owner.

"I think old John, one of my farm hands, is the man you want," said Mr. Ballantyne.

John said he would come to the United States immediately if Mr. Wilson would allow McElmeel to accompany him. And so, with McElmeel, he arrived here.

"I haven't made any plans yet," he said. "I do not intend to stay in New York, however. Marry? No sir. I'm a little to old for that. I shall enjoy passing my last years in comfort, but also in quiet. Have a sister who I think is alive still, and I shall try to find her and get her to help me enjoy the fortune 'Jim' left me. I guess 'Jim' didn't know sister Mary was alive."

We Are Glad to Recommend Root Juice

BECAUSE ITS GREAT MERIT IS BEYOND QUESTION.

We are very glad to recommend Root Juice to the people of this locality, as we personally know of many astonishing cures it has made. The great merit of the remedy is beyond question. Bradley Bros., the druggists, who have the agency at this point, said that they never sold a medicine that gave such general satisfaction, and that dozens of local residents gladly give testimonials, unsolicited. Many of our oldest and most respected citizens are praising Root Juice, because, after a short use of it, their appetite improved, their sleep was more refreshing, their nerves were settled, their kidneys ceased to bother them at night, back pains and rheumatic pains no longer made life miserable, and their general health was improved in every way. The combination of roots and other ingredients of which Root Juice is made certainly has a wonderful soothing, healing and tonic effect on the stomach, bowels, bladder, liver and kidneys. Many who have suffered for years with catarrh of the stomach and bowels, gastric ulcers and other causes of bad digestion, have called at the drug store to say that a few bottles of Root Juice have completely cured them.

In the midst of lovely decorations of winter blossoms and smilax, nearly forty ladies enjoyed a game of bridge as guests of Mrs. James W. Runyan, of Hoagland avenue, this afternoon. After the game there was served a tempting supper in which the colors of the decorations, green and white, made attractive appointment. A hamper of white hyacinths stood on the mantel in the livingroom and a large basket of white roses with their own foliage stood on the piano. The chandeliers were wreathed in smilax and vases and bowls of white carnations lent further charm to the decorative effect. Mrs. Runyan asked Mrs. J. B. Crankshaw, Mrs. George A. Townsend, jr., and Mrs. Harold Babbitt to receive with her as the guests arrived.

Juniors Hold Reception.

One of the most interesting entertainments of this week was the reception given in the assembly room of St Catherine's academy by the members of the junior class in honor of the seniors who will soon complete their course of study at the school. The reception was held on Tuesday afternoon from to to 5 o'clock. Potted plants and cut flowers tastefully decorated the rooms. Beautiful favors of royal purple and gold pennants were presented Rev. J. F. Delaney and the guests. The colors are those selected by the seniors as class favorites. Both Father Delaney and Father Durham honored the classes with their presence and addresses were made by both in which they commended the students for their devotion to their studies and for the pleasant time they had planned for all in the reception. Prize awards were made to Rev. Durham and Miss Esther Sinel. A fine repast was served by the juniors who are Misses Helen and Marie Goodfellow, Armonde Breen, Lucile Miller and Grace Kelley.

German Raisin Loaf.

At night make a sponge with one pint of flour, one teaspoonful of salt, a half cake of compressed yeast dissolved in a half cupful of milk or water and as much more milk as may be necessary to make a very thick batter. Beat well, cover and let rise in a warm place. Next morning cream together one cupful each of butter and sugar, add the grated rind and juice of one lemon, three well beaten eggs, one pound of seeded raisins, one-quarter of a pound of shredded citron, one-quarter of a pound of blanched and shredded almonds, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt and three cupfuls of sifted flour. Blend this thoroughly with the sponge, turn into well buttered molds. Let stand until light, then bake in a moderate oven.

Currant Jelly Whip.

To the whites of three eggs add a tiny pinch of salt and beat until foamy. Add three tablespoonfuls of sifted powdered sugar and beat again until very stiff and glossy. Now add, a teaspoonful at a time, two-thirds of a glass of currant jelly, continuing to beat until the mass is perfectly light and well mixed. Pile in a dish or in small glasses and send to the table.

Simple Cures for Shy and Nervous Young Women

Girls So Afflicted Must Forget Themselves and Think Only of the Other Persons Present.

Recently I received a large number of letters from young girls who declare they are so nervous when among strangers that their feelings are almost unbearable.

My answers to them personally have been unsatisfactory, I fear, because, unfortunately, no rules as to overcoming such misfortune can be definitely stated.

And yet I think if nervous, sensitive girls will concentrate their wills in an endeavor to control this trouble it will disappear. The more a girl yields to it the worse the condition, I am sure.

The first effort for a girl so affected to make is to realize that she is not as conspicuous as she thinks. Nervous girls are always self-conscious, and frequently think themselves the center of attraction, when, often, they are not noticed, or would be but slightly did they not attract attention to themselves by their peculiar actions and awkwardness. The latter is always part of extreme nervousness.

Once upon a time I employed a competent waitress who was always uneasy when there were guests at the table. Questioning her for the reason of her evident discomfiture, I found that she thought the strangers noticed her entrances and exits, and this idea embarrassed her. I finally convinced her that the guests probably thought nothing of her, and after a few months she began to realize the truth of my statement, and as a result was serene and natural.

If nervous girls would feel, when among their social equals, that they were unnoticed, I am sure this shyness would leave them.

If a girl behaves naturally she will have no trouble. The matter really resolves intself into a firm mandate: "Forget yourself." And once a girl does forget herself she will be happy among strangers.

Extreme nervousness among young girls may have its beginning in lack of physical strength, and if such is the case they must be fed and must take healthful exercise.

It is useless to keep away from strangers—which is the natural inclination of nervous persons—for habits of solitude will only make a shy girl doubly so. Therefore, courage is to be summoned and a point made of going to place where there are strangers. For only then will strangers cease to cause terror.

A Singer of the Highest Art.

The most important event of the Fort Wayne musical season will be the recital on Dec. 14 in Majestic theater of Signor Alesandro Bonci, in his own sphere the greatest living singer and one whose art will not suffer by comparison with that of any of his predecessors. Bonci will be heard in concert for the first time, having voluntarily given up his operatic career for the concert stage. Opera thereby loses a great tenor, but the great number of cities which will thus be enabled to hear him on his five months' tour will be the gainers. Bonci is the great exponent of bel canto, the highest art in singing. Pure singing, or absolute singing, is in danger of being forgotten not only in this country, where it has but an indifferent foothold or even understanding, but even in Italy, where the classical compositions founded on the pure singing are revered as the modern music dramas can never be. Its requirements are so great that few male singers, in particular, have the ability, courage and consecration to rise to its almost impossible heights.

USEFUL HINTS.

As a hint to those who make sachets for Christmas gifts, or for personal use, it is claimed that a few peppercorns will tend to preserve and also bring out the odor of perfumes used as fillings.

I have never tried this, but I pass the information on, hoping that it may prove valuable.

I think a little powdered orris root (not so much as to overpower another perfume) helps to preserve delicate odors which may otherwise last but a few weeks.

Almost every woman has been worried at some time to see a black skirt or suit shine in spots, especially when the material is serge.

It is claimed that there is no permanent remedy for this condition, but I have been told that sandpaper is an excellent medium for removing the gloss.

You lay the shiny place on a board or table and lightly rub with fine sandpaper, not hard, but enough to rough the nap.

Afterward the garment must be pressed, when, one authority declares, "the spots will look like new."

When candle grease drops usually the first thought is to scrape it off with a knife, so the grease will not harden, but if a heated knife is used the removal of grease will be quick and thorough.

Take off as much grease as will come the first time, then scrape off the rest with a hot knife. Wipe the knife each time it is lifted from the grease spot.

This is better than the hot iron and blotter process, and often more convenient, as the grease may fall on some spot where it would be almost impossible to apply an iron.

Unique, different gifts are the kind men will find at Parrot's Studio and Art Store.

wiped, they are brilliant. Then they may be thrust on the ends of twigs, and if put into a hot oven for about ten seconds they shade their hue just enough to have a wonderful reddish brown. Twigs thus decorated may be combined with evergreens, and if put into brass or copper, the bunch, having a slashing red bow tied in, becomes effective.

Cranberries used after the manner suggested, if stuck on the end of wooden toothpicks, look astonishingly like cherries and are pretty for garnishing the Christmas turkey.

A woman who does not like a fruit centerpiece should use swamp alder berries and pine needles. Both are to be bought at any florist's, and the combination is brilliant and different from the usual table ornament.

Mexican peppers are something of a novelty in the flower market, and are to be commended for table use, as they last a long time, and have a beautiful color. Greens should be used with them. The beautiful red shrub that looks like pressed salvia or red sage, is one of the novelties of the season.

WIRELESS PLANT IS DESIGNED AND BUILT UP BY BLIND BOY

Remarkable Handiwork of John W. Ellis Feature at Association for the Blind's Shown—Whole Apparatus Planned and Made by Himself—Has Received Messages from Distances of 500 to 800 Miles, He Says.

New York, Dec. 6.—The handicap of blindness has failed to prevent John W. Ellis, a boy, of No. 106 West Eighty-ninth street, from rigging up a wireless telegraph apparatus that makes it possible for him to hear the news of the world without leaving his room. As Ellis has been blind since birth, it is a good deal easier to listen to what people say about things in general than it is to take the time to go over pages of raised and perforated letterings or have to ask friends to read aloud and let him know what is going on.

The success of the blind boy's wireless apparatus is being demonstrated at the fair and sale held in the headquarters of the New York Association for the Blind, at No. 118 East Fifty-ninth street, and even the men who know ampheres and radiograms so well that they treat them like poor relatives admit that the sending and receiving apparatus made by the blind boy is a work that few of the most expert could duplicate.

Tells How It Was Built.

While sending and receiving messages in his room on the third floor of the Association for the Blind building, Ellis explained how he came to take an interest in wireless telegraphy and how he perfected his machine.

"It was mostly due to not having anything else to think about," he explained. "I was living in Boston at the time—about six months ago—and already knew the commercial and continental code, and one day a friend of mine said that a piece of gas pipe, a few feet of wire, an iron bed and a telephone receiving outfit was all that was needed to allow anyone to listen to what the wireless operators were saying. This interested me and I got a friend to read aloud some articles on wireless telegraphy and then I had a talk with a wireless operator.

"I learned enough from what I heard to decide to make a wireless outfit of my own. I never saw it, of course, but many persons tell me that it is a far simpler, lighter and more compact instrument than those being used by the big wireless companies. I use a silicon cup for the resistance where some of the machines have carborundum, and have my coil made of thin copper wire, wound around a wooden cylinder and then enamelled. This, with my twenty-four dry cell batteries, is the main part of the outfit, with the key, aerial wires on the roof and sparking apparatus. I made it all myself and am proud of it.

JOHN W. ELLIS, BLIND WIRELESS OPERATOR.

"I have not talked with many operators as yet, as my cells do not generate enough power to make the waves I send long enough. I have listened, however, to messages from Norfolk, Washington and nearly all the other wireless stations from 500 to 800 miles away from New York. I receive the Marconi as well as the De Forrest systems."

Graduate of Boston School.

Ellis is now nineteen years old. He was graduated from the Perkins Institute for the Blind in Boston, and has been declared a prodigy, so far as comprehension of electrical and mechanical problems were concerned.

It is not only the blind wireless operator that is attracting the attention of all who visit the headquarters for the assistance of the blind, for there are all sorts of exhibits there that are entirely the work of men and women who never saw. In the basement a number of blind women are at work on looms weaving mats, scarfs, rugs and draperies. On the first floor are shown carvings, sculpture, needle work, weaving and all manner of art craft work which the sightless have made. Above them is the broom room where a demonstration is given of broommaking, chair caning and basket weaving, while on the next floor is the wireless room.

The blind pupils who have been instructed by the association's teachers have learned stenography and typewriting, and the telephone operator who has charge of the large switchboard has never seen daylight.

Many society women and men well known in all walks of life who are interested in the work of the blind have visited the association's headquarters since the beginning of the fair and sale.

CARDINAL GIBBONS FOR CHURCH UNITY

Commends Episcopal Convention's Advocacy of Union.

PRELATE TELLS HOW

Baltimore, Md., Dec. 7.—Cardinal Gibbons selected for his monthly sermon in the Cathedral the subject, "A Plea for United Christendom," a topic which was one of the features of the recent triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church in Cincinnati.

The cardinal selected passages from the Scriptures to show that church unity was the desire of Christ, and then asked, "Where, then, shall we find this essential unity of faith and government? I answer, confidently, nowhere save in the Catholic church."

After referring to the strong and earnest language in which delegates to the Protestant Episcopal convention advocated the reunion o fthese various Christian churches, Cardinal Gibbons said:

"I am grateful to the members of the convention for the praiseworthy sentiments, which they express and which reflect honor on their heads and hearts. And I pray with them that the day may be hastened when the words of our common Redeemer, Jesus Christ, may be fulfilled, when there 'will be one flock and one shepherd.'"

It was the cardinals view that this consummation can only be attained when all Christians shall recognize one Chief Pastor. "For we might as well expect," declared the prelate, "to have a united commonwealth with several independent presidents as to have a united church under conflicting spiritual rulers."

Cardinal Gibbons held that unity of government is not less essential to the church of Christ than unity of doctrine. "Our divine Savior," continued the cardinal, "never speaks of His churches, but of His church. He does not say, 'Upon these rocks I will build my churches,' but 'Upon this rock I will build my church,' from which words we must conclude that it never was His intention to establish or to sanction various conflicting denominations, but one corporate body, with all the members united under one visible head, for as the church is a visible body it must have a visible head.

"Our Savior calls His church a sheep fold. 'And there shall be made one fold and one shepherd.' What more beautiful or fitting illustration of unity can we have than that which is suggested by a sheep fold? All the sheep of a flock cling together. If they are momentarily separated they are impatient till reunited. They follow in the same path. They feed on the same pastures.

"They obey the same shepherd and fly from the voice of strangers. So did our Lord intend that all the sheep of His fold should be nourished by the same sacraments and the same bread of life; that they should follow the same rule of faith as their guide to heaven; that they should listen to the voice of our Chief Pastor, and that they should carefully shun false teachers."

After declaring that the essential unity of faith and government can only be obtained through the Catholic church, the cardinal continued:

"The number of Catholics in the world is computed as 250,000,000. They all have 'one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one creed.' They receive the same sacraments, they worship at the same altar and pay spiritual allegiance to one common head. Should a Catholic be so unfortunate as contumaciously to deny a single article of faith, or withdraw from the communion of his legitimate pastors, he ceases to be a member of the church, and is cut off like a withered branch.

"How sublime and consoling is the thought that withersoever a Catholic goes over the broad world, whether he enters his church in Pekin or Lebourne, in London, or Dublin, or Paris, or Rome, or New York, or San Francisco, he is sure to hear the self-same doctrine preached, to assist at the same sacrifice, and to partake of the same sacraments.

"This is not all. Her creed is now identical with what it was in past ages. The same gospel of peace that Jesus Christ preached on the Mount."

Johnson's Opinion of Rousseau.

One evening, at the Nitre, Johnson said sarcastically to me, "It seems, sir, you have kept very good company abroad—Rousseau and Wilkes." I answered, with a smile: "My dear sir, you don't call Rousseau bad company. Do you really think him a bad man?" Said Johnson: "Sir, if you are talking jestingly of this I don't talk to you. If you can be serious I think him one of the worst of men, a rascal who ought to be hunted out of society, as he has been. Three or four nations have expelled him, and it is a shame that he is protected in this country. Rousseau, sir, is a very bad man. I would sooner sign a sentence for his transportation than that of any felon who has gone from the Old Bailey these many years. Yes, I should like to have him work in the plantations."—From Boswell's "Life of Johnson."

TELEPHONE CALL WAS MONKEY TALK

Locked in Hotel Booth, It Moaned and Scared the Exchange Girls.

THOUGHT MAN DYING

New York, Dec. 7.—In response to the sweetly intonated "Number, please," of a young woman operator in the Williamsburg telephone exchange early yesterday morning there came back a long drawn out moan. Again the operator demanded the number. The only answer was another moan, louder than the first, that the young woman could associate only with a person in distress.

"Girls, there's a man dying on this wire," the operator cried.

All rules were forgotten and every operator in the exchange switched in on the wire to listen. They, too, heard the moans.

"The man's being murdered, or he is dying and calling for aid," said one of the operators. "Call police headquarters."

So a policeman at the switchboard in Brooklyn headquarters was informed by an excited operator that a man was dying in the Broadway Grill, a hotel conducted by J. M. Norris, at No. 912 Broadway.

The police operator also became excited after he had been connected with the Broadway Grill and had listened to the moans transmitted by wire. He asked the lieutenant at the Vernon avenue station to send two policemen to the hotel.

Policemen Hendricks and O'Brien found the Broadway Grill in darkness, for it was then about 4 o'clock. They pounded on the door for several minutes before a sleepy watchman admitted them.

"No one dead or dying here, so far as I know," said the watchman when the policemen stated their errand.

"Where's your telephone?" demanded O'Brien.

"Over there," said the watchman, pointing to a booth at the rear of the room. The door of the booth was closed. As the policemen threw it open a chattering monkey sprang out and jumped upon a table.

At sight of the animal the watchman ran upstairs and returned in a few minutes with another sleepy man.

"Sure, that's my pet monkey," he said. "He made such a racket in my room that I couldn't sleep, so I locked him in the telephone booth. He must have pulled the receiver off the hook when he got lonesome."

CLAIMS HE SAVED LADYSMITH.

London, Dec. 7.—It was only on the sixth attempt, as every one knows, that the late General Sir Redvers Buller succeeded in relieving Ladysmith during the last Boer war. But if a story which has just come to hand after these twelve years be substantiated, Ladysmith might have fallen eventually into the hands of the Boers had it not been for the strategy of a Zulu chief who, at the last moment, came to the relief of the harassed British general.

The story, which comes from Durban, is to the effect that the Zulu chief Malinga is claiming through the court a reward of $200 and 80 head of cattle for the services rendered on the occasion referred to. Malinga declares that it was through him that the final attack on the Boers at Tugela Heights proved successful, he having originated the plan of operations after five previous efforts had been made without success.

The Natal Mercury, which chronicles the details of Malinga's claim, offers no opinion on its merits, but states that many of the points of the chief's story coincide with what actually occurred.

The Ladies' Aid society of Bethel Evangelical church will hold a meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the parsonage. It will be a business meeting followed by an address by Miss Doering, a returned missionary from Africa.

WHEELER GOT IN ONE MORE STUNT

Now It Develops That He Has Not Signed Tot Contract.

DOCUMENT IN POCKET

When it comes to pulling that "off again, on again, gone again" stuff Eddie Wheeler has Mr. Finnegan throttled.

It now develops that he "blew" into Terre Haute Saturday and "blew" right out again, but while he was blowing he kept his head with him and didn't take any chances by signing a contract with President Louis D. Smith. He took the document, put Smith on record with an offer and then went to South Bend to see what he could do with Bert Annis.

Your Uncle Bertram is not the most polished business man on earth, but he has been brought up in a school that has taught him to hold out for his rights and if he stands for a call it's pretty near a cinch that he can beat aces up. Therefore Mr. Wheeler has some job ahead of him to secure his release.

Wheeler says he bought his own release from Memphis, paid $200 for it, released himself from the South Bend club at the close of the season and it now a free agent.

Annis says that he bought Wheeler's release, that his release of himself at the close of the season is not legal and that he is not a free agent. They agree on most everything else in their controversy.

It is highly probable that Annis will win out in the dispute and that if Wheeler ever becomes the manager of the Terre Haute club he will have either to purchase his release from the South Bend club or guide his club from the bench, as he will not even be allowed on the coaching lines in event the decision goes against him and Annis refuses to sell him to Terre Haute.

On the surface it looks like Annis does not want Wheeler any more than Wheeler wants to be manager under Annis. They can not agree on anything, or rather if there is any point they can agree on neither of them ever thought of it thus far.

Eddie Wheeler came into the Central league last spring with a genial personality and an extensive wardrobe. He had never managed a baseball team in all his life, but he played in the American association and the Southern league and wanted a chance to show what he could do.

The South Bend team was pretty well framed up but he decided that Fred Alberts, Dave Martin, George Tieman and a few of the old heads needed a change of base so he had them shifted. He staggered along through a few weeks of training and then on the recommendation of Pitcher Ed Smith he picked up Alex McCarthy, the Notre Dame shortstop and afterward landed "Hip" Carnarius and sold both.

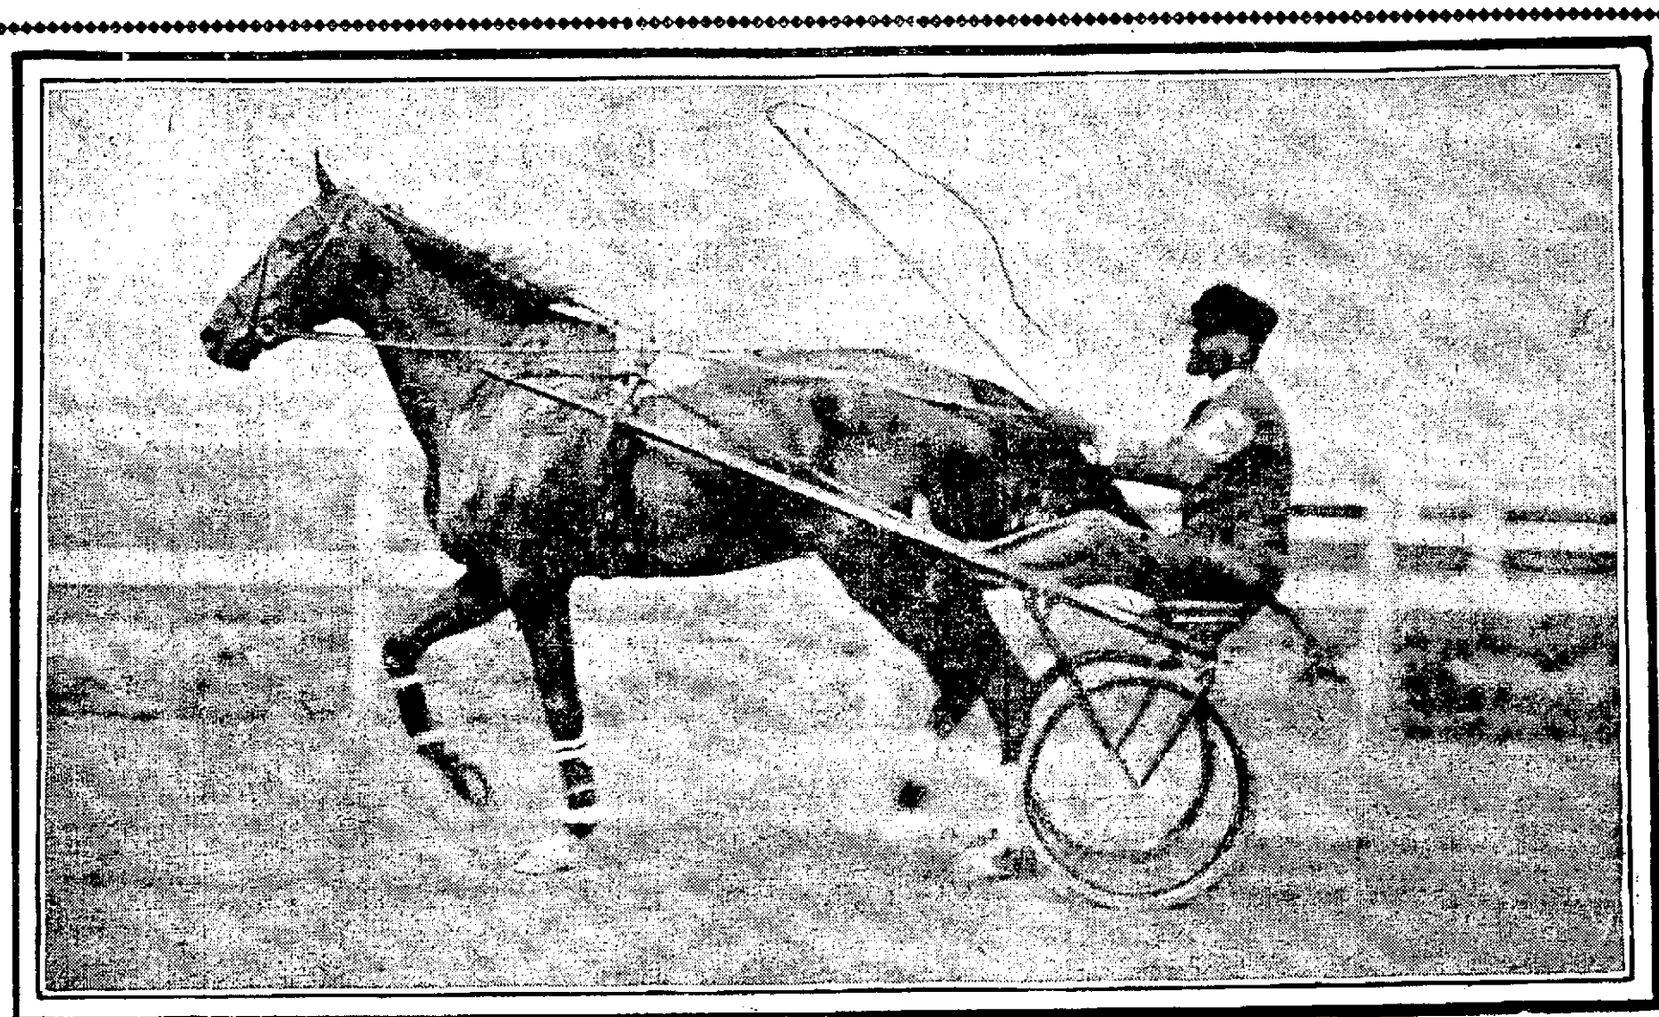
Later he startled the South Bend public by transferring Eddie Coffey and Midge Craven to Grand Rapids. They were regarded as fixtures. Then he shifted Buck Connors in favor of Doc Schmick and all of his deals were for the betterment of his club.

Through a fortunate combination of circumstances Fort Wayne made a hot fight for the pennant against South Bend and the rivalry reached a boiling point. This resulted in enough gate receipts to make the season profitable and stamped Wheeler as a good manager. Before the season closed he announced he would not manage the South Bend team in 1911.

He had given his notes for the half interest he held in South Bend, with the privilege of buying Bert Annis' half. He had no money invested in the club and when settlement time came there was friction. Next in order came the announcement that he would manage Grand Rapids and transfer the South Bend players and now he is in a mixup with Terre Haute.

As a press agent Mr. Wheler is there. He has kept himself before the public every minute since he joined the league and makes no denial of the fact that he likes it. He also candidly says that it helps baseball from the box office standpoint and he is looking for that all the time. It would not be at all surprising to find him at the head of the Grand Rapids club next year. He ought to make a success there and it looks like his best chance. He and Annis are scheduled for another conference tonight or tomorrow.

CRIPPLED MARE BROUGHT BIG PRICE AND WILL BE RETIRED



SONOMA GIRL, J. D SPRINGER DRIVING.

Boston, Mass., Dec. 7.—The most important horse sale of the season has just been closed. Miss Lotta Crabtree, through her brother, John Crabtree, as agent, has sold the noted brown trotting mare, Sonoma Girl (2:04¼) to George T. Moore of St. Claire, Mich., the owner of the famous Dromore Stock Farm. The sale price was close to $20,000. This is one of the highest figures ever paid for a crippled mare.

After the stories of Sonoma Girl's breakdown in Texas reached the north, Mr. Moore engaged skilled veterinarians and had the condition of the great daughter of Lynnwood W filly investigated. The report of the experts was that, while Sonoma Girl would never be able to race again, her condition was such that her great value as a brood mare of the future was in no way impaired.

Sonoma Girl will be 12 years old the first of next month, and is comparatively young for a brood mare. She will first be mated to Mr. Moore's stallion, Baronmule, and later to his noted son, Justice Brooke. Despite her ailing legs Sonoma Girl trotted this year to her record of 2:04¼ at Lexington and closed the season as the fast trotting mare of 1910.

Gotch Asks for Gallery Seat at Wrestling Match.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 7.—Frank Gotch, now retired champion of the world among the heavyweight wrestlers, will watch George Hackenschmidt, the "Russian Lion," and Jess Westergaard, of Iowa, wrestle at the Coliseum tonight. Gotch will not be much in evidence, however, as he has asked the Empire Athletic club, which is promoting the show, to provide him and his friends with gallery seats, as he does not wish it known to the crowd in what part of the house he is seated.

Gotch is fearful that he may be called upon to make a speech and tell the crowd in person that he has definitely retired. He wants to see his old European rival, however, before he retires to his Iowa acres. Then he says he will be through the game.

TO CONTINUE INDIANA LEAGUE.

Laporte, Ind., Dec. 7.—The positive statement has been made that the Northern Indiana Baseball league would be continued for the season of 1911, and that a meeting to perfect the new organization will be held in Lafayette the coming week. Anderson, Ind., has made application for a franchise, and the 1911 league will probably consist of eight cities, Lafayette, Logansport, Peru, Kokomo, Wabash, Huntington, Marion and Anderson, though Bluffton may be substituted for Peru.

MUM ON BROWNS' MANAGER.

St. Louis Magnates Hold Secret Session, But Refuse to Talk.

St. Louis, Dec. 7.—After President Hedges and the directors of the American league St. Louis baseball club held an all-day session in Hedges' office, no announcement of the appointment of a manager for the club next season was made. Hedges refused a statement for the press.

Jack O'Connor, the Browns' deposed manager, was not seen at the conference.

He has received his pay for his services to January 1, when it is understood he will present his contract for next year and demand pay for next season, if he is again informed that his services are not wanted. Wallace's appointment as manager will be made January 1, it is believed.

NEEDHAM SIGNS CUB CONTRACT.

Veteran Backstop Enlists for Campaign of Coming Year.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 7.—Tom Needham, third catcher of the champion Cubs, has stepped to bat with his contract for 1911. The document enlisting the Steubenville speed merchant and P. G. expert reached President Murphy yesterday and was duly salted away in the National league strong box. Owing to continued illness the West Side magnate failed to show at his office, but he is fast rounding into form for the National league meeting in New York next week.

President Comiskey of the Sox, after naming his two setter dogs, presented by Ed Walsh, "Balls" and "Strikes," announced his intention of departing with B. B. Johnson for a hunt at Wilmington, Ill.

LESTER CHANNELL SIGNS FOR 1911

Says He is as Good as New and Will Make Good With New York.

STILL HAS THE SPEED

Lester Channell has signed his contract with the New York Americans for 1911 and says that he will make good in the Highlander's outfield this season and is ready to begin right where he left off when a slide to third base last summer broke two bones in his foot and a small one in his ankle and put him out of the game for the remainder of the year.

He said in a communication to The Sentinel that he had lost none of his speed and that the accident will not affect his work materially as he can get out now and run as fast as he could before he was hurt and if he can his greatest handicap has been overcome, as ball players feared that the injury would slow him up.

He is spending the winter at his home in Crestline and is not working during the winter months, prefering to keep in condition by being out in the open air where there is little danger of hurting the foot again.

Channell will have a hard time making the regular New York team, because the outfield made a good showing, but it is not likely that Owner Farrell or Manager Chase will be able to secure waivers on him if an attempt is made to dispose of him to the minors. His speed record has gone out ahead of him and the major leaguers recognize its value.

In the Central league Channell's record will be watched with great interest, as he is regarded as one of the best outfielders the league has ever sent to the majors.

Sporting News in Tablets

Since his last appearance in the United States Yussif Mahmout has devoted himself to the study of the English language and after a few months in England he can almost carry on a conversation now in "Americano."

President Charles Comiskey of the White Sox, says he is after a new catcher, but he will not try out any recruits. He is after a seasoned man and it is believed would take Bill Carrigan from Boston if he could get hold of him.

Johnny McGraw has been given permission to spend $40,000 to build up a ball team that will win the National league pennant next season. Already the Giants are figured as the chief aspirant for the 1911 flag.

Jimmy Dygert, the diminutive pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, who failed to do much to help the world's champions land last summer, is now pitching ball for a semi-pro team in New Orleans. Jimmy wastes his energy during the winter and is no good in the summer.

Hank O'Day likes the present of diamond buttons the National commission handed the umpires in the world's series, not because of the present itself, but because it is the first time the poor umpire has ever been declared in on anything like that.

Some scribe in St. Louis has unearthed a real joke. He figured out Washington had a championship team back in 1859. When his story was perused to the end it was found the team was known as the "Champions of the South," and was only an amateur organization.

The unfriendly feeling that exists between Manager Jimmy McAleer of the senators, and his old employer, Robert L. Hedges of the browns, is likely to keep the two clubs from making a deal for Griggs, the young player who showed well with the Browns last season.

Bill Rourke, the Omaha magnate, already has started the work of erecting new steel and concrete stands, thereby giving all his friends in the Western league a real surprise. Bill had promised to do that trick so many times in the past it was regarded as a real joke when he mentioned it in earnest.

President Jackson of the Baseball Writers' association does not think much of the proposition to have official scorers appointed by the two big leagues. "No ball player goes through a season without being convinced that the official scorer has robbed him of at least twenty hits," says Joe. "It will be no different when the scorers are appointed by the league itself."

Manager Clymer, of the Wilkesbarre team of the New York State league, has purchased outright Pitcher Oberlin, who finished the season last year with the Indianapolis club. Clymer was familiar with the work of Oberlin when manager of the Columbus team of the American association and he believes that he will prove a star in the New York State league.

Charles C. Carr, late manager of the Indianapolis American association team, will assist in plans that are now under way for a working organization of all semi-professional baseball clubs of the city and state. The object is to better the playing conditions for the players and to place the sport on a firmer basis. Carr formed an association of semi-professional clubs at Cleveland, a few years ago, that proved to be a great success.

Ollie Chill, former Central league umpire, but who has worked in the American association the past season, has joined the ranks of the openly dissatisfied umpires in the association, says the Columbus Dispatch. The Dispatch knows of at least two others who have been kicking at working conditions under the presidency of T. J. Chivington. The "prexy" wants to bind him for a term of years, and Chill is kicking because, as he hints, conditions are not satisfactory. Umpires need backing and they have not had it.

HOF BRAU TAKES A CLOSE SERIES

Heidelbergs Gave Hot Chase in Two of the Three Games.

SPLITS BOTHER MEN

SCHEDULE FOR TONIGHT.

Hattersley & Sons and Centlivres.

In the first and last games of the First Brunswick league series last night the Heidelbergs gave the Hof Braus a merry chase and although the latter made a clean sweep of the three combats they took the first by ten pins and barely got out four to the good in the windup. In the second game the Heidelbergs had a bad tumble and the winners spurted and rolled the best total of the struggle.

None of the Heidelberg crew rolled up to form with the exception of Vincent who grabbed 222 in his first game and led in the individual scoring, but he fell down in the other two games and maintained his standard only by reason of his good start.

For the winners "Ot" Sander got the high marks and rolled about his general average, but Hendelman, who has been burning up the drives slipped and got a bad mark. John Kelly gave Sander a battle for the average, but was nine pins short of a tie. The scores follow:

BIBLE READERS,

You cannot appreciate reading the bible unless you can understand it. Therefore to understand it you must read it topically. The new chain reference bible is the only bible that carries the thought as well as the word.

Dr. Wilbur Chapman says: "I advise all who love God's word to secure this addition." H. P. Dannecker, president of the Ohio synod, says: "Yes, I am glad I have a Thompson." C. Claud Travis says, "I consider it far superior to all other bibles." J. K. Cecil says: "It offers an inducement to careful and thorough research." Arthur J. Folsom says: "I find it indispensable and takes the place of a dozen ordinary reference books." Rev. E. M. Todd says: "I prize it very highly and recommend it to all."

For other recommends and information regarding this wonderful bible drop a postal to No. 626-627 Shoaff building. Chain Reference Bible Co., and one of our representatives will call and explain.

THE CROP SUB PUT ON DUTY

Eastern Tenderfoot Advised to Stay Where He Is—Hamlet Strollers Get a Roast—Utah Reader Put Wise—Why the Paper Is Not In Politics.

By M. QUAD.

[Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.]

HAS any one seen Barlow? His brother is here from Chicago looking for him. Supposed to have been hanged for horse stealing a year ago. May have been shot in a poker game. May have committed suicide in order to get somewhere else.

Next week we shall be away for four days, leaving the Kicker in the hands of our agricultural editor. Don't make any mistake and call and shoot him. He is sandy haired, freckled faced and smokes cigarettes and would drop dead if a gun was pointed his way.

Three months ago when we, as mayor of the town, appointed Bill Jackson city marshal, we did so under the firm belief that he was a man of sand. Tuesday night last we were aroused from sleep by an altercation in front of the office, and we picked up a gun and hustled out. Our city marshal had come across Lung Sing, the laundryman, and ordered him to move on. Lung Sing was willowy tight and refused to move. Not only that, but he had the drop on the officer, and we got out to find Bill on his knees and begging the heathen not to pull the trigger. It took us just thirty seconds to wreck Lung Sing and hoot Bill around the corner, and now we want a new marshal.

Mr. Rocky Mountain Bill, who struck the Gulch three days ago, tried to do a smart thing yesterday. He set out to ride his cayuse up a long flight of stairs to the mayor's office. We happen to be the mayor, and we happened to be in at the time, and we also happened to shoot a bullet through Bill's shoulder to learn him better manners.

In the rush and bustle of getting out a great family weekly like the Kicker it has often occurred that we have branded individuals as horse thieves, liars, robbers and murderers. We have meant well in so doing, and the local vigilance committee has seldom gone wrong in following our advice. We do not claim to be infallible, however, and when we do call down an innocent man we are ready and willing to apologize.

An eastern subscriber to the Kicker writes us to inquire if this town has mineral springs and is a health resort. It has no springs as far as we know of, and it isn't exactly a health resort. The climate is healthy or unhealthy, according to the man. He may gain a pound a week for months or he may be hanged on the first day of his arrival. If you have a good thing in the east stick to it.

As a town and as a people we are certainly becoming criminally careless. The other day we started off up Apache avenue without our guns. A red headed stranger opened fire on us, and we dodged about trying to borrow a pistol. The result brought out a singular state of affairs. Steve White's pistol was unloaded; Abe Johnson's was caught in the lining of his pocket; Tom Williams had forgotten his; Pete Davis had his in his bootleg and had to wait to pull off his boot. Of the seven men we asked for a gun not one could help us out, and we finally had to run for it. As a crowd we ought to be ashamed of ourselves.

Sunday afternoon we were called up by telephone from Cactus Corners to receive the information that the town had just hanged a man who claimed to be a subscription agent for the Kicker and who had raked in quite a sum of money. Our thanks are due and given. The Kicker employs no agents of any sort. When you run across one claiming to be, shoot or hang him and put us under renewed obligations.

We take a pardonable pride in stating that at the present date no less than seven of our forty-two saloon keepers in Giveadam Gulch are spending hours each day in compounding what they aim to bring out—a cocktail that will have a worldwide popularity. It will be named the "Arizona" and together with the Kicker will sound the praises of this territory from Skowhegan, Me., to Hopalong, China.

A letter from a reader in Utah makes inquiry if we are a pessimist. Three days ago we were idiot enough to let Judge McCall take our dictionary with him on a trip to Florence, and as he has not returned we are somewhat in doubt about the word. If it means the same as phoenix, then we are a pessimist. Phoenix means to rise from the ashes. We have riz. We can't say about the ashes, but the way we have shot up has astonished the whole world. If a pessimist is as homely as the editor of the Givadam Star and as cranky as the town clerk then we respectfully decline the honor.

Monday evening last the so called "Shakespearean Combination" of Chicago presented the play "Hamlet" to a large audience at the Hellso Opera House. The part of Hamlet was taken by a tenderfoot who couldn't have got the drop on a blind man standing under an electric light. He walked around considerably and talked more or less, but he didn't really amount to shucks. It was the same with the other characters, and the show wasn't half through when the boys shot the lights out and ended the game. We drink poor whisky out this way, but we know Shakespeare from Tom Jones, and it's no use to try to fool us.

The circulation books of the Kicker are open to all. Any one who doubts that we have 4,000,000 subscribers weekly is invited to come along and see for himself. We must add, however, that while he is circulating over our lists with a pen we shall be circulating over him with a gun.

Some of our subscribers are finding fault with us because we have so little to say about politics. They forget that we are a postmaster and desire to hang to our job. We could go in and slam thunder out of the whole crowd and be right in all we said, but we'd be out in the thistle patch as a reward and no one the better for it. Pull your own chestnuts out of the fire.

Colonel Jim Bryan stopped his copy of the Kicker the other day because we would not advocate a war with Mexico on the one side and Canada on the other. We are sorry to see him go, but such things must happen in this sad world. If the colonel wants excitement he should go out and stir up the mountain lions.

When the Chicago beef trust sent a man here to open a shop we predicted his failure within two months. He didn't last but three weeks. When even the beef trust has to buck up against bear steak, coyote roast and wolf fry there can be only one result. Giveadam Gulch is sure to come out ahead on any game like that.

Word was received here yesterday that Joe Scott, one time a resident, had been lynched in Montana. Many and many a time we have told Joseph that it was only a question of time when he'd get it in the neck, but he doubted our ability to predict the weather.

Nearly One-fourth to One-third Saved on the Furs in This Sale.

It was a host of eager buyers who took advantage of this great opportunity yesterday. Perhaps some came to "look" but they certainly must have been satisfied with the remarkable values for they remained and bought.

Only once in a while does such an opportunity come about. The former owners of this stock and the proprietors of the J. N. Euwer's Sons Co. store in Youngstown, O., where the stock was carried, had a misunderstanding which resulted in the cancellation of the fur department contract and the sacrifice of the stock. We secured the entire stock at a tremendous saving, which we purpose to share with our patrons.

Included are coats in pony, sable, squirrel, marmont, caracul and Hudson seal, also muffs, scarfs and sets in black lynx, mink, fox, sable, squirrel, Jap mink, brook mink and Siberian lynx.

They're light in weight, tho' very securely made, covered with Jap matting in natural color, and bound and and trimmed with strips of bamboo. A very necessary addition to any girl's bedroom. Priced from $2.50 to $10.

AMONG THE NEW GAMES—THE ELECTRIC WONDER BOOK.

Not only will Young America be interested in this new game, but his father, mother and older sisters and brothers as well. For it is entertaining and instructive and mysterious as well.

Half of a well filled book consists of questions of historical and general interest, the remaining pages containing the correct answers. The long metal arm of a pictured schoolmaster is moved to any question you desire answered. Close the book and the hand of the pupil indicates the answer. This is one of the most wonderful games ever brought out, and everyone should see it in the basement.

JUMPS THROUGH WINDOW OF CAR

Passenger on a Pennsy Train Takes Frightful Plunge.

FOUND ASLEEP IN CORN SHOCK

By Searching Party an Hour After the Accident.

Francisco Ponti, a passenger on Pennsylvania train No. 8, last night, plunged through the window of the coach he was riding in as the train was running at the rate of fifty miles and hour two miles west of Lima. Conductor Chris Casey, who had charge of the train, reported the incident when he reached Lima and a switching crew with an engine was dispatched to the scene to search for Ponti. The men found him sound asleep in a corn shock about 200 feet from the tracks. Blood was oozing from some slight cuts on his face, head and hands, but when aroused he was able to walk and it is believed he was not seriously injured, though he was in a dazed condition when taken to the hospital, where he is now in the hands of the railway company's surgeon. From papers in the pockets of the injured man it was learned that he has been engaged in business in San Francisco, California, and he had tickets reading from that city to Genoa, Italy, where he was evidently bound for a visit. He is also well supplied with cash and has a draft for $5,000. Passengers in the car with Ponti say that he was apparently asleep a moment before he made the plunge through the coach window and tracks in the snow indicate that he ran into the field immediately after alighting on the ground and dived into the shock of corn, where he went to sleep. He will be placed aboard a train and sent east as soon as he regains his senses.

One week from tonight the employes will have a dance in the Dormitory building for employes only and similar events will be held from time to time during the winter.

EXPECT CHARTER THIS WEEK.

The Nickel Plate engineers expect the charter for their new division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers the latter part of this week or early next week. It is said that the general officers of the B. L. E. look upon the petition for a charter with favor and will issue one with no hesitancy when they "get to it." There are eighty-one actively employed brotherhood engineers on the Western division of the Nickel Plate and fifty-seven of them signed the petition for a separate division.

SHOPMAN TO TAKE EXPEDITION.

A hunting party which will be composed of the following gentlemen, all Pennsylvania shopmen, will be the guests of J. O. Bryant, on his farm northwest of the city next Saturday and Sunday: Henry Lapp, William Moeller, Ed. Siebert, Ed. Kline. Mr. Bryant promists his comrades a good time and guarantees a catch of twenty-five rabbits. He has trained a bevy of rabbits to hand about a big brush pile and to the one who kills the first one, Mr. Bryant offers a prize of a pair of Belgian hares.

SHORT ON POWER.

The Wabash road is said to be short of motive power, due to an unusual movement of freight over the lines. There is an immense movement of coal over the Decatur and Springfield divisions, which requires more power than the regular equipment of those divisions can give and engines from other divisions have been sent there to help out. It is said that many of the side tracks are filled to their capacity with loaded coal cars.

CHUNK OF COAL HIT HIM.

A. J. Rager, a local freight fireman on the Pennsylvania, received an injury this morning which prevented him from going out on his run, though it is not serious. While in the act of taking his engine out of the round house a piece of coal rolled from the pile in the tender and cut a gash in the top of Mr. Rager's head. The wound bled profusely for awhile.

YOUNG APPRENTICE HURT.

Piece of Shafting Falls on Joseph E. Houlihan.

Joseph E. Houlihan, a machinist's apprentice, was severely injured at 9 o'clock this morning while operating a machine in the Wabash shops. Some men were engaged in taking down a piece of line shafting over his machine when it got beyond control and in the descent struck the apprentice, cutting an ugly gash in his upper lip, another gash in the side of his head and bruised and sprained his right ankle. Dr. C. F. Kaadt, the company's surgeon, was summoned to the shops to attend the injured man and after giving the wounds temporary attention, took him home at 441 West Williams street. Joseph Houlihan is a son of Erecting Foreman John J. Houlihan, of the Wabash shops, with whom he resides.

IN NEW POSITIONS.

The duties of this office are to look after blanks and other papers in connection with the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Ropa has been the chief clerk in Foreman G. A. Szink's office at the blacksmith shop for seven years and he has been employed in a clerical capacity by the company eleven years. He began his service there as clerk in the boiler shop, where he remained only one month, when he was transferred to the round house, serving there four years, two at the old building and two at the new round house. Seven years ago he was transferred to the blacksmith office. Herman H. Gerke succeeds Mr. Ropa at the 'smith shop office. This young man has been in the employ of the company a little over two years and has been advanced several times. He began as assistant clerk in the 'smith shop office in September, 1908; was transferred to the paint department as clerk in October; transferred to the copper shop in a similar capacity in May, 1910, and in September of this year was called to the shop clerk's office. Each change was a promotion.

HOLIDAY AT OLD HOME.

Train Load of Swedes En Route for Christmas Visit.

One hundred and eighty men and women—all Swedes—passed through Fort Wayne at 8:30 last night, on a special train over the Nickel Plate, en route to New York, from whence they will sail tomorrow for their native country. They have been in America a number of years, have worked hard and been economical in the expenditure of money and they are now enjoyig the fruits of their toils and privations in these United States. The entire party took lunch at the Nickel Plate restaurant and the rapidity with which the vast stacks of ham sandwiches and doughnuts diminished until nothing remained was equalled only by the rapid manner in which the coffee urns were emptied. Landlord and Mrs. James Dormer were the most active persons in Fort Wayne for twenty minutes. Charles A. Asterline, district passenger agent at Minneapolis for the Nickel Plate, was with the party, the majority of the travelers being residents of Minnesota. The Swedes will return in three months

American Civic Association Meets in Washington Next Week.

WAR ON ONERY FLY

Washington, D. C. 7.—The sixth annual convention of the American Civic association, which will be held in this city December 14, 15 and 16, will bring together for an important conference several hundred enthusiastic workers for the improvement of civic conditions in all America. Distinguished men and women will participate in the program, which will relate to many phases of the making of a "beautiful America," from national, state and city parks, down to the intimate endeavor for the beautifying of home and neighborhood surroundings.

A definite policy for the administration of national parks and the creation of state parks will be outlined at the evening session of Wednesday, December 14, by J. Horace McFarland, president of the American Civic association. Mr. McFarland will urge a codification of the laws creating national parks and a bringing together into an harmonious working system all of the park areas now owned by the federal government. The attention of the states will be directed to the importance of developing and maintaining state parks, as recreation centers for the people of the several commonwealths. A few of the states, notably New York, Wisconsin, California and Michigan, have undertaken definite effort in this direction. All of the states will be urged to do likewise.

City Planning to Have Day.

The sessions of an entire day will be devoted to city planning, with addresses and discussions designed to afford "first aid" to those cities seeking to adopt orderly and comprehensive methods for their physical upbuilding. Clinton Rogers Woodruff, secretary of the National Municipal league, of Philadelphia, will speak on the subject "What is Your City Ideal?" Frederick Law Olmsted, of Brookline, Mass., will tell of the "A B C of City Planning;" John Nolen, of Cambridge, Mass., will discuss "Comprehensive Planning for Small Towns and Villages;" Arnold J. Brunner, of New York, "Some Serious Problems in City Planning;" Geo. B. Dealey, of the Dallas News, will tell the story of "How Dallas Got Into Action for a City Plan," and Harold J. Howland, of the Outlook, New York, will explain ways for "Getting out the Vote for a City Plan." Hon. Franklin MacVeagh, secretary of the treasury, who had a large part in securing the Chicago plan, will preside at one of the city planning sessions.

Well known women will address sessions devoted to the work of civic societies. Among these will be Mrs. Caroline Bartlett Crane, of Kalamazoo, Mich., a recognized authority on the care of streets; Miss Zona Gale, of Wisconsin, who will read an original story, entitled "Friendship Village Improvement Sodality;" Miss Louise Kleine Miller, curator of school gardens, of Cleveland, on "Schools as Radiating Centers for Civic Improvement;" and Mrs. Edward W. Bibble, president of the federation of Pennsylvania women who will speak for the general federation of Women's clubs.

The Wicked Fly to Get His.

The Friday afternoon session will be given over to the subject of the "Typhoid Fly," against which the American Civic association conducted a vigorous crusade this year, under the direction of Edward L. Hatch, jr., of New York, chairman of its fly fighting committee. Among the distinguished speakers will be Dr. Woods Hutchinson, of New York, and Dr. L. O. Howard, chief of the bureau of entomology, of the department of Agriculture. At this session there will be displayed and explained the wonderful motion pictures of the association, descriptive of the life history and habits of the fly which have been used with such telling effect in thousands of the motion picture theaters. The bill-board and smoke nuisances will also be made subjects of special sessions and considered from the standpoint of their legal control.

The American Civic association numbers thousands of individuals and hundreds of societies as members from all parts of the United States and Canada. In addition to the attendance of members the governors of the states, all of whom are honorary members, have been asked to appoint delegates to participate especially in the sessions devoted to state parks and to city planning. The cordial responses of state executives indicate that there will be a large representation of such delegates.

The headquarters of the association were established at Washington last January and this will be its first convention ever held in the capital city. With particular reference to the further beautifying of Washington a principal address by William M. Ellicott, of Baltimore, will suggest a great national forest park in the environs of the city, which will be to the United States very much what Versailles is to Paris and to all of France.

PRIMARY PLAN IN BIBLICAL TIMES

Iowa Clergyman Adopts the Method to Select Nominees for Office.

IN HIS CONGREGATION

Des Moines, Ia., Dec. 7.—That the primary election is not a new institution and that it is just in the election of church officials, as well as of state officials, is the view of Rev. J. W. Graves, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, in this city. In conformity with his opinion Mr. Graves has announced a primary election in his church for the purpose of selecting nominees for church offices. The election will be held in January.

"There is nothing new in politics any more than in anything else," declares Mr. Graves. "The apostles in selecting a successor to Judas named two candidates, Joseph and Matthias, and then they cast lots and the latter was chosen.

"The last four verses of the first chapter in Acts is my proof that the modern primary had its origin in the Bible. Relative to the successor of Judas the four verses read:

"'And they appointed two, Joseph, called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias. And they prayed and said: "Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, show whether of these two thou hast chosen." And they gave forth their lots, and the lot fell upon Matthias, and he was numbered with the eleven Apostles.'

"That was just as truly primary as could be. The eleven first chose two candidates and then elected one.

"I will follow this plan in my church primaries. Two ballots will be cast by each member for every office, and those receiving the highest number will be declared the nominees. At the January election officers will be elected from those."

The proposed primary election in the church is a decided innovation in Iowa, and it has awakened a great deal of discussion among members of the Des Moines Ministerial association.

SON A SUICIDE; FATHER DYING.

Singular Tragedy Takes Place in Pennsylvania Home.

Washington, Pa., Dec. 7.—As John Whitaker, 65 years old, of McDonald, Pa., sat reading the evening paper, his son Charles, 33 years old, entered the room and said:

"Good-by, Dad; I'm going."

"Where to, Charlie?" asked the father, without looking up.

A moment later the son fell dead at his father's feet. He had taken carbolic acid.

The father, who had been in ill health, fainted and fell across his son's body and is dying as a result of the shock. No motive for the suicide is known.

Feet So Sore Couldn't Walk Down Stairs--

TIZ Cured Her Quick

If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville. TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes."

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

BOY SCULPTOR FROM THE FAR WEST.

MASTER AVARD FAIRBANKS, THE YOUTHFUL SCULPTOR FROM UTAH.

New York, Dec. 6.—Young Michael Angelo, clad in the knickerbockers of this modern day—for so he seemed to visitors who saw this boy of thirteen years—is working steadily in the Metropolitan Museum of Art modeling a lion.

He is the youngest sculptor who ever plied the plastic art within the walls of the institution, and despite his youth he shows already that he is designed for the atelier.

His name is Avard Fairbanks and he comes from Salt Lake City, Utah, where his father is an artist and his brother a sculptor. His mother was interested in modelling and several of her associators were concerned in sculpture in an amateur way. Young Fairbanks has an unusually good sense of proportion for one of his years, and his work has a certain freedom, indicating the true artistic instinct. He is making a copy of a bronze group, "Lion and Snake," by Barye, the noted French sculptor of animals, and the work, which is nearly completed, is a very good reproduction. The king of beasts is represented as crushing a serpent, which wriggles up from under his ponderous jaw, and it is indeed no easy task to fashion the lowered leonine head and the spiral coils of the snake.

WISE BOBBIE.

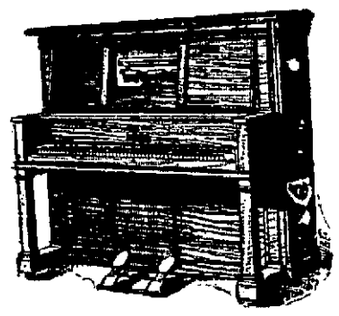
THE gladsome day of all the year
Had dawned and brought its Christmas cheer.
Old Santa Claus—and pop was it—
Had made a most decided hit.
They'd dressed him in a great red coat,
Which covered him from feet to throat,
And here and there they'd put some snow.
All made of cotton, don't you know.
A bushy cap was on his head.
The cap, of course, was also red.
A big white beard concealed his face.
He was a funny looking case.

* * * * * * *

Now, some time later in the day
The postman, burdened, came that way,
And Bobbie started with a bound
When first he heard the whistle sound.
He met the postman at the door
And saw him pile upon the floor
A lot of bundles, big and small,
Until they almost filled the hall.
The father came and looked about.
"These are more gifts, without a doubt,
And, Bobbie, they are all for you.
You must thank Santa for these too."
The youngster looked with much surprise
Right up into his father's eyes.
"Now, dad, the man who brought these here
He had no sleigh, no whip, no deer.
His suit was gray, his face was fair.
I'm sure he didn't have gray hair.
Now, if he's playing Santa Claus,
Why, he should wear a beard, of course!"
—Yonkers Statesman.

The Laziest Man.

During the civil war a captain of a company which had sixty men in its ranks, none of whom was as energetic as the officer thought they should be, hit upon a plan which he believed would cure their habit of laziness. One morning after roll call the captain, addressing his command, said: "I have a nice easy job for the laziest man in the company. Will the laziest man step to the front?" Instantly fifty-nine men each took a step forward. "Why didn't you step to the front?" inquired the commander of the one man who did not come. "I was too lazy," replied the soldier.—Philadelphia Ledger.



NO ONE ELSE CAN USE IT

The Melville Clark Piano Company own the United States patent number 795817 that gives the Company the Absolute and Exclusive Right to Use the Downward Touch in

THE MELVILLE CLARK

Apollo Player-Piano

What is this downward touch? It is the method of striking the piano key that is observed in Apollo construction. The pneumatic fingers in the Apollo touch downward on the piano key in front of the fulcrum, the same as is done in manual playing. If the stroke is like the human stroke the expression secured will be like the human expression. This logic is plain and convincing. The Apollo is the only Player in the world upon which the highest artistic effects can be infallibly secured.

Another important feature in Apollo construction is the Metronome Motor. This motor is as finely constructed as an expensive watch. It automatically regulates the tempo with a nicety that is astonishing and enables the performer to concentrate his mind exclusively upon the expression. It is one of the most important features in player manufacture because it is so helpful in securing beautiful effects. It also rewinds the music roll without effort on the part of the performer.

The Transposing Device Secures a Perfect Alignment of the Roll

In the Apollo Player the square cut music roll is used. There are no music rolls on the market so effective as the square cut, because the holes so cut allow a greater intake of air and a cleaner execution. There is no dragging on or off to spoil the score. The more accurate the cutting of the space in which the air is drawn, the more perfect will be the performance.

One fact should not be lost sight of in considering the Apollo player-piano. That is that in which the Apollo action is placed is one of the genuinely artistic pianos made in the United States. In fact, it is one of the best. The combination of a piano and a faultless player action makes the Ideal Apollo Player. The Solo-Apollo is the one perfect accenting device, accenting the greatest scores with the accuracy of the greatest pianists. It is one of the marvels of the day in player-piano construction.

The Melville Clark Piano

INDIANA'S AGRICULTURAL STATISTICS.

First Preliminary Comparative Statement of General Farm Data Issued by Census Director Durand.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The bureau of statistics is by no means the dry place that its name would indicate. If its name were extended to include "commerce," that all important subject which interests all classes of people to a greater or less extent because it deals with a subject pertinent to every individual and the elements of his daily life, the title would more distinctly indicate the work of the bureau.

Originally organized to record the imports and exports of the country, the bureau of statistics, of which O. P. Austin, a former correspondent, is the head, has gradually developed a system by which the ordinary citizen may learn the number of pounds of cotton, the number of gallons of petroleum, the number of beef cattle or the number of pounds of fresh beef sent to every country of the world in any given year during the last half century. The number of pounds of coffee or India rubber or raw silk or the number of bunches of bananas and the value of each imported from each and every country can be had for the asking at the bureau. Its figures show the value of each of the thousands of articles imported, the countries from which the more important are brought, and, in equal detail, the exports to every country of the world.

If the producer of cotton wants to know what has been the distribution of that particular product, how much of it has gone to mills in the United tates, north and south, how much to England, Ireland or Scotland, how much to France, Germany, Italy or other countries, he will find the facts here in concise form. If he wants to know the movements of the mineral oil produced in the United States, how much was sent to China or Japan, or to the countries of Europe, he has but to call upon the bureau for that information and it is sent free of charge. If he wants to know in more general terms what the total imports and the total exports are, what per cent. foodstuffs or manufactures or manufacturers' materials formed of the total imports in any year during the last century, the figures are available and can be had on request. If he wants to know the marvelous growth in the exportation of manufactures from $122,000,000 in 1860 to $768,000,000 in 1910, or the growth in the share which manufactures form of the exports until they are now actually more than one-half the total, Mr. Austin is on the job to supply the information desired.

While the province of the bureau of statistics was originally the recording and analysis of the foreign trade of the United States, the work has been extended to include a statistical abstract of the trade of the countries of the world, so that the American producer or manufacturer may know the class of merchandise which every country is importing and has imported during a term of years, and the classes of merchandise which each country is exporting and has exported during a term of years. A further expansion of its work, which is an undertaking of recent years, is a systematic study of the internal commerce—the exchanges between the various parts of the country, the movements of merchandise on the great lakes, the concentration at the great interior points of leading articles of production and commerce, such as wheat, corn, cattle, hogs, meats, oats, cotton, coal, iron and other articles of this character, and their distribution.

The importance of the work of the bureau of statistics increases with the growth in the commerce of the country. The total imports of the United States, which had never passed the $500,000,000 line prior to 1871, or the $1,000,000,000 line prior to 1903, were $1,558,000,000 in 1910; and the exports, which had never passed the $500,000,000 line prior to 1873, or the $1,000,000,000 line prior to 1892, were $1,745,000,000 in the fiscal year of 1910. The $30,000,000,000 which the bureau estimates as the approximate value of the internal commerce of the country is twice as great in value as that of all the merchandise entering the international commerce of the world.

The method by which the compilation of the figures of the commerce, especially the foreign commerce of the country, is made and the analysis worked out so that any of the information suggested and thousands of other facts of a similar character can be furnished upon short notice, is interesting and less complicated than might be supposed upon first observation.

At every door through which merchandise can enter the United States, the treasury department maintains a collector of customs, whose duty it is to examine, through his subordinates, all merchandise offered for importation, to determine its value and the amount of tariff tax which it must pay, if any, upon entering the country. These collectors are required to report to the bureau of statistics each month the quantity, where possible, and the value, in each case, of each of the principal articles imported, and the country from which brought, and these reports are transmitted to the bureau, which receives the returns from the 140-odd collectors and compiles and condenses them into statements. These show the importation of each of the hundreds of articles named; while a detailed statement, following the phraseology of the tariff, reported to the bureau for each quarter of the year, shows thousands of articles, their value, the duty collected on each class, the rate of duty, and the average ad valorem rate, class by class and item. On the export side, similar statements are reported by the collectors, showing the quantity and value of the principal articles exported and the countries to which sent. These are compiled in the same general manner as that applied to the compilation of imports.

For the movement of merchandise on the great lakes and the concentration of the interior cities, the bureau has a system, recently developed, by which the figures are obtained from the carriers on the great lakes, the chambers of commerce and other bodies at the commercial centers, showing the movement of coal over various lines of railways and other information of a like character. Monthly and yearly statements regarding the imports and exports of the principal articles are also published. For the compilation of these figures the bureau of statistics maintains a force of about sixty persons, skilled in statistical work, who, on receiving the monthly reports from the collectors of customs, record them in volumes prepared for that work. By the use of adding and calculating machines they prepare the condensed statements by which any citizen may be promptly informed of the imports or exports of article, the trade with any country of the world, by article or in totals, the ports through which the merchandise enters or leaves the country and other details of this character.

In addition to all this, the bureau publishes annually a volume which includes with its own figures of commerce the information gathered by other bureaus and organizations of the government, showing the area, population and wealth of the country, money in circulation, the deposits in the various classes of banks, the transactions of the clearing houses, the miles of railway in operation, the number of letters and other pieces of mail carried by the postal service and the number of telegrams handled by the telegraph companies.

CHARGE MEDICAL TRUST.

Logansport Doctor Cited Before State Board Makes Defense.

Indianapolis, Dec. 7.—Dr. Charles D. Pettigrew, of Logansport, was arraigned before the state board of medical examination and registration yesterday to show cause why his license should not be revoked. He was charged with inserting a fraudulent advertisement in a Logansport newspaper. Following the announcement that he had been cited to appear before the board, the physician had inserted a second advertisement charging that there was a "medical trust" in Cass county.

"Do you honestly think there is a medical trust in Indiana?" asked Dr. Gott.

"I think there is about as near one in Logansport as possible," answered Dr. Pettigrew. He said the Cass County Medical society antagonized him because he had declined to join it. The hearing was continued.

ONE OF THE WONDERFULLY SUCCESSFUL GOSPEL "TEAMS" WITH THE CHAPMAN-ALEXANDER EVNGELISTIC PARTY.

Rev. W. P. Nicholson, the Irish Sailor Evangelist, and J. Raymond Hemminger, American Gospel Singer, Conducting the East District service at First Methodist Episcopal Church—Just Home from Australia, where They Remained a Year for Special Work After the Departure of Dr. Chapman and Mr. Alexander, With Other Members of the Big Evangelistic Organization.

Carrying modern business system into the work of delivering the gospel message, Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman and Charles M. Alexander have their magnificent evangelistic organization subdivided into a number of corps of district workers who are responsible for the effort in the particular district assigned them.

One of the most successful of these gospel "teams" is composed of Rev. W. P. Nicholson, the Irish sailor-evangelist, and J. Raymond Hemminger, a superb gospel singer, who in Fort Wayne are conducting the services of the East Side district at the First M. E. church.

Apparently widely apart in personal characteristics, no "team" ever worked more harmoniously than Mr. Nicholson and Mr. Hemminger. It is now more than two years since they began work together. It was at the beginning of the Australian campaign that Mr. Nicholson and Mr. Hemminger "tied up" in the work, and when the remainder of the Chapman-Alexander party left Australia Mr. Nicholson and Mr. Hemminger remained behind for a year to take up the work in Tasmania and other points not touched by the larger party. They returned to America but two months ago, rejoining Dr. Chapman and Mr. Alexander in Chicago. Toward the close of the campaign there Mr. Nicholson and Mr. Hemminger were sent to St. Joe, Mich., for a brief campaign before coming to Fort Wayne.

Mr. Nicholson's Career.

A few years ago, when Mr. Alexander was in the midst of a mission in England, he met a young man who was making his mark as an evangelist. He was about thirty years of age, not tall, but powerfully built, and with a volume of love for the service of God in his heart that shone in his eyes and rang in his strong, north of Ireland voice. Mr. Alexander enlisted his services, tested his work and was so deeply impressed that before he left America he cabled to him to meet him in Australia. It was Mr. W. P. Nicholson, and he came. His history reads like a modern chapter of the Acts of the Apostles. He was born at Bangor, in the north of Ireland, thirty-five years ago, and educated at Belfast. At the age of seventeen he was an apprentice on a sailing vessel and in this capacity he visited Australia, touching at Adelaide. Crossing over to Africa he left the vessel at Cape Town and labored on the construction work of the Cape-to-Cairo railway. During this time he led a wicked life and was greatly addicted to drink. Tired of the life he was living, he returned to Bangor, and a fortnight later the power of God came down upon him in a miraculous way, and, alone in his mother's home, there came to him the experience of personal salvation.

Joins Mr. Alexander.

After spending a year in Belfast in business, he left for Glasgow and entered the Bible training institute for several sessions. Later he labored as an evangelist under the Lanarkshire Christian union and continued in this work for several years, holding missions in the south parts of Scotland and later in the historic Portman Square church, London, on the invitation of the vicar, the Rev. J. Stewart Holden. Mr. Alexander heard of Mr. Nicholson through Rev. Holden, who strongly recommended him as an evangelist of great power, and after hearing him preach and noticing his successful methods of dealing with people in the after-meetings, Mr. Alexander invited him to go over to America for three months, where he conducted missions in Philadelphia, New York and Collingswood, N. J. Returning to Scotland he had successful missions in Glasgow, London and other English centers.

He was a member of the Chapman-Alexander party which visited Australia in 1909, and in company with Mr. Hemminger, remained after the rest had gone on to China, Japan and Korea. They had marvelous meetings all over that vast country.

Talks of Life as Sailor.

In some of his addresses Mr. Nicholson touches on some thrilling experiences of his life as a sailor. On one voyage from England to Valparaiso with a load of coal, their ship capsized while rounding Cape Horn, and after hours of deep anxiety and suffering, the boat turned turtle and the whole crew of twenty-four had to cling onto the outside for a whole night. He says that they were all a Godless set of men, but when the lightning flashed it revealed twenty-four men praying like popes. Next day a vessel hove in sight and tried to get a boat to them, but the wreckage was too great a menace for them. The men shouted, "Throw yourselves overboard and we'll pick you up," but as that meant certain death to their benumbed bodies, they refused and the ship took its departure. Finally the vessel righted itself and later a Liverpool vessel hove down upon them, and after getting a line to them, towed them into Faukland island.

Mr. Hemminger's Work.

Raymond Hemminger was born and reared in the state of Pennsylvania, not far from where such singing evangelists as Sankey, Bliss and Towner were born. He had the untold blessing of Christian parentage. At the age of fifteen John R. Mott was conducting a meeting one Sunday afternoon, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian aassociation of his home town, Carlisle, Pa. Mr. Hemminger was amongst those who raised their hands in response to an appeal, and there began the Christian life.

He is a member of the Presbyterian church and has been prominently identified with the work of the Y. M. C. A. and the Christian Endeavor movement. For several years he was president of the Christian Endeavor union of his native town, and it was in the C. E. society that he received his greatest help along spiritual lines. He also took an active part in an organization called the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip, the object of which was to pray for the unsaved and make it a point to speak to at least one unsaved person each day about their soul.

Mr. Hemminger was a teacher in the public schools of America for eight years, and during that time held several positions as church choir leader, his last being leader of a quartet choir, all soloists. He always made it his aim to have his choirs sing the gospel into the hearts of the people, rather than simply have them sing for entertainment. Along with his other duties he did much gospel singing and had much demand for his services. He finally came to the point where he was compelled to relinquish his school work in order to give all his time to evangelism. After working a year in America he went to England and became associated with Dr. Torrey and Mr. Alexander in their wonderful work throughout Great Britain. He purposed staying one month, but Mr. Alexander kept him there for six months as his soloist. After that he joined Dr. J. Q. A. Henry, the John B. Gough of this generation, and the two had wonderful missions in all parts of Great Britain and Ireland, and in America. During the last year and a half he has been assisting pastors in America with remarkable success, and Mr. Alexander induced him to give up this work to accompany the party to Australia, where he and Mr. Nicholson had wonderful missions.

THE MARKETS

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Dec. 7.—Weakness in European markets was reflected today by wheat prices here. Better harvest conditions in Argentina formed the basis of bearish sentiment. Otherwise circumstances pointed largely in the opposite direction. It was expected that the government report would be bullish and there were signs of an improved demand for milling. The opening was unchanged to ⅝@⅞c lower. May started at 97c to 97¼c, a loss of ⅛c to ⅜c and reacted to 94¼@94⅜c.

Slim demand made the corn market soft. Country offerings were said to be a little larger. May opened ¼c to ⅜c down at 48c to 48⅛c and declined to 47⅞c.

Oats were in good supply but there was less urgent call than much of the time of late. May started a shade off to a shade up at 34½c to 34⅝c and slipped down to 34⅜c.

Regardless of the fact that the hog run was more liberal than looked for little product could be had, and prices were firm. First sales ranged from 2½c higher to 5c off, with May at $17.00 to $17.10 for pork, $9.72½ to $9.77½ for lard and $9.30 to $9.35 for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Dec. 7.—Initial prices in the stock market today showed further pressure in the active list. Union Pacific opened with a block of 3,500 shares at 166¾ to 166½@167. A large block of Reading opened at 142⅛ and 142@, a loss of ½ point. Almost immediately after the opening the market rallied with recoveries in the general list.

Room traders poured out stocks freely on the rally and a number of the representative issues were driven materially below yesterday's low figures. The metal and railroad equipment stocks were especially weak.

Losses reached 2 points in American Car preferred, 1¾ in Lehigh Valley and American Locomotive and 1 to 1¼ in Union Pacific, United States Steel, American Smelting, Pressed Steel Car, Anaconda, Kansas & Texas, Republic Steel and Tennessee Copper. By 11 o'clock the market was receiving some support and there was a fractional recovery.

The recovery was generally well maintained during the noon hour, but business dwindled to minor proportions in marked contrast to the operations of the morning session. There appeared to be considerable short covering together with very moderate buying from what was considered the most substantial interests. General Electric gained 2.

Realizing sales depressed Amalgamated Copper, Union Pacific and Lehigh Valley a point, but other stocks did not suffer much and the list eventually worked back to its high level. Toledo, St. Louis & Western receded 2 points.

The market closed strong. The final hour was slightly more active on buying by the short interest, which was productive of general recoveries and some gains. New York Central, Chesapeake & Ohio, American Smelting and Pennsylvania improving 1, and Reading and Lehigh Valley 1½. Covering of these contracts was inducely largely by intimations of a possible further reduction in the Bank of England rate tomorrow.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Dec. 7.—Prime mercantile paper, 5@5½ per cent.

Sterling exchange steady at the decline, with actual business in bankers' bills at 482.55@482.80 for sixty day bills, and at 485.65 for demandu.

Commercial bills, 481⅝@482¾.

Barsilver, 54¼c.

Mexican dollars, 44c.

Government bonds, steady.

Railroad bonds, easy.

Money on call, firm, at 2¾@2⅞ per cent; ruling rate, 4¼ per cent; closing bid, 2⅞ per cent; offered at 3 per cent.

Oh! Grosfatter Oh! Grosfatter

You've been on this earth a good while. Now did you ever taste any better Hams and Bacon than old Leikauf is making? I guess not. And, oh, about their lard, mamma says it makes such fine doughnuts and pie crust. She thinks it is as pure as I am, and you know what every mother thinks of her dear kids, and he's selling it for 12 cents a pound only. I was over to the packing house to see them kill hogs and everything looked nice. Leikauf told me he was going to sell 500 50-pound cans of their Pure Rose Brand Lard at 11¼ cents a pound, sale commencing December 8 and ending December 20. Now don't fail to get a can. It will keep a year and it will come in nice next summer when lard may be selling for 16 to 18 cents. Of course we don't know but we don't think it will be any lower than that price. Oh, yes, don't forget to try some of their country style cured ham and bacon. We know you will like it. Now look at these prices. They are only a few of our figures:

Nice Pork Chops	12½c lb
Pork Shoulders	11c lb
Nice Lean Ham	12½c lb
No. 1 Lard	11½c lb
Bacon	15c lb
Fat Backs	11c
Nice Side Meat	12c
Neck Spare Ribs	7c lb
Pigs' Feet	20c doz.
Nice Liver	6c
Sauer Kraut	4c lb
Jumbo Pickles	8c doz.
Fancy Butterine	15c lb
Beef by the Chunk	7c to 9c lb
Beef by the quarter	7c lb
Plenty of offals.
Pigs' Heads	7c lb

You can buy a whole hog if you want one.

P. S.—We buy direct from the farmers and do all our killing and can save you from 20 to 25 cents on the dollar. Just compare these prices with what you are paying. Come early and avoid the rush.
